Dr. John Brittain

Dean of the Chapel
(2003 - 2012)

John Brittain has been a part of the Houghton Community since 2003 when he came here as the Dean of the Chapel and professor of Religion. Students can remember his humorous chapels and his costumes for every occasion. You never knew what to expect when we showed up to one of his chapels. Whether it was a gigantic storybook or a pikachu costume, you always came in with a smile and left with a deeper understanding of what he spoke about. He was loved during his time here and will be dearly missed in his retirement. The following are some thoughts and memories that various students and professors have of Dr. John Brittain's time here at Houghton.

I could say something about Dr. Brittain's amazing sense of humor or how much of a man of God he is, but I think the thing that impresses me most is how he always treats you like you are an important, interesting person. And he is very kind.

- Sarah Slater '15

I most admired Dr. Brittain's ability to maintain an even keel, at least publicly, at all times. I never recall seeing or hearing him act or speak in a thoughtless fashion. I know that in his position, he would have had ample opportunities to "go off." Never saw it. Still waters, do indeed, run deep.

- Dr. Walters

One of my favorite memories of Dr. Brittain was from my freshman year. At SPOT he came on stage as the Christopher Walken character from the "More Cowbell" SNL skit with many freshmen students playing the other roles. This immediately endeared me to him and showed his love and commitment to the student body.

- Daniel Holtz '10

Dr. Brittain is very relaxed and people-focused. He puts people at ease, and makes groups of people collaborate well together.

Remembering Greg Young

Greg was one of those students who became a genuine friend to me and my family. He was bright, sensitive, hilarious, irritating and deep – frequently all at the same time. He also had a fierce sidekick and terrible taste in metal (yeah, we argued about music). I loved him and miss him.

- Dr. Jonathan Case

I am so thankful to have shared a personal friendship with Greg. His openness to conversation and quick wit led to many quality interactions. His genuineness and honesty challenged others to truly delve into the Word of God, and to live with greater authenticity. Greg was someone with whom you could share anything; I am so grateful that the Houghton community could grow with and through him during his time here. His companionship and insight will be sorely missed.

FALA:

Our main mission is to put off the stress of college with fun events and promote fellowship between brothers and sisters in Christ. It might seem like we're just crazy people with Nerf blasters, but many have testimonies about meeting their best friends and strengthening bonds with each other during the events. It's been awesome to see all the great friendships that started here. You will see every kind of person here, and barriers from different interests and backgrounds are taken down as people interact as friends or foes during the games. (Dakota Rudolph, president; David Bruno, Vice president; Nikki Blum, secretary; Meg Monthie, treasurer)

Gadfly Society:

The Gadfly Society provides a forum for voluntary extracurricular endeavors of interest to philosophy majors, minors, and other philosophically minded persons, and to promote awareness of the relevance of philosophical perspectives to practical issues.

Health Prof Club:

The health professionals club provides an opportunity for those who want to stay up to date in the latest health-related issues and promote the importance of this information to the Houghton Community.

HPO:

The Houghton Pops Orchestra is a student run performance ensemble aimed at giving student performers and managers out of the ordinary experiences.

Director: Robert Martin;
Assistant Conductor: Nathaniel Efthimiou;
Board of Managers: Ian Love, President;
Nathan Sircy, Rachel Spak, Meghan Vanderkruk, Joshua Mertzlufft

ISA:

The Intercultural Student Association recognizes and expresses appreciation of the multicultural nature of Houghton's campus by creating fun events, and facilitates interaction in cultural events as organized by multiple clubs and offices on and off campus.

LIFE:

Members of L.I.F.E. are committed to advocating the value of life for everyone, especially those threatened by induced abortion, those struggling with an undesired pregnancy, and the families dealing with the after-effects of abortion.

Mercy Seat:

Mercy Seat is a prayer and worship ministry emphasizing the centrality of the word (Col 3:16), inclusiveness (Acts 10:34-35) and unity within the Body (John 17:20-23), thereby cultivating intimacy with God and being transformed into his likeness (2 Cor 3:18).

SGA:

SGA is a great opportunity to learn student leadership on campus. We represent student concerns to the college, and provide a link between students and administrators, faculty, and staff. We also initiate activities and services that improve the student experience. One way we do this is by distributing club funding and sponsoring creative student projects. Another way is by providing events for community service, Christian outreach, and student unity.

Quote: All my needs you have supplied. When I was dead you gave me life. So how could I not give it away so freely? I'll follow you into the homes that are broken. Follow you into the world. Meet the needs for the poor and e needy God. Follow you into the world.

Katherine Baker

Quote: "When God had made The Man, he made him out of stuff that sung all the time and glittered all over. Some angels got jealous and chopped him into millions of pieces, but still he glittered and hummed. So they beat him down to nothing but sparks but each little spark had a shine and a song. So they covered each one over with mud. And the lonesomeness in the sparks made them hunt for one another."

Quotes:

"If death is victory, how afraid of life can we be?"

A man came across a large boulder. God said to him: "I want you to push on this boulder every day". Obediently, the man pushed on the boulder every day for three years. Then, the devil came to the man and said: "This boulder hasn't moved an inch! God has given you a worthless task." So the man stopped. God returned to him and asked "Why have you stopped?" "I pushed on that boulder for three years and saw nothing! Your task was pointless!" he exclaimed. "When did I say that the boulder was supposed to move? See how strong you are!"

Moment:

After our area meetings Junior year, Hannah Bowersox decided to take a spontaneous drive with a few of us from our townhouse. We found a good place to stop, and got out and looked at the stars, and messed around. Then, out of the darkness a random guy started walking towards us, yelling at us to get off of his land. We all freaked out, and started sprinting back to the car, got in, and drove away as fast as we could. We were so scared, but eventually, we were dying of laughter because it was the most random thing! I love you girls!

Memory: Every December for my first three years, a good-sized group of us would go to the nursing home on the hill and walk around singing Christmas carols to the residents... and every year a snowball fight would ensue during the walk back. It was always a fun and memorable ending to a lovely evening.

Footprints

One night I dreamed I was walking along the beach with the Lord.
Many scenes from my life flashed across the sky.
In each scene I noticed footprints in the sand.
Sometimes there were two sets of footprints,
other times there were one set of footprints.

This bothered me because I noticed that during the low periods of my life,
when I was suffering from
anguish, sorrow or defeat,
I could see only one set of footprints.

So I said to the Lord,
You promised me Lord,
that if I followed you,
you would walk with me always.

But I have noticed that during the most trying periods of my life there have only been one set of footprints in the sand.
Why, when I needed you most, you have not been there for me?

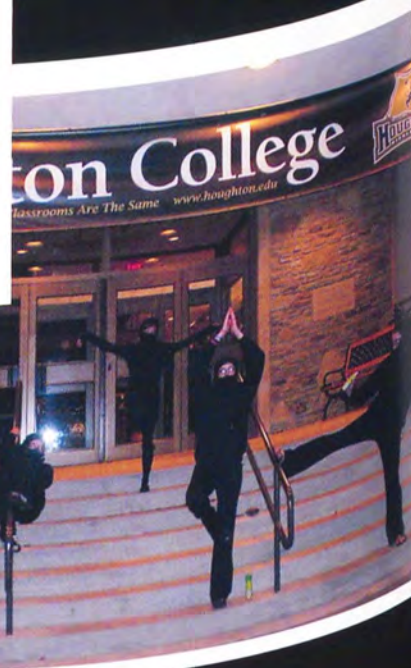

The Lord replied,
The times when you have seen only one set of footprints in the sand,
is when I carried you.

The Boulder yearbook has represented Houghton College since about 1925 after Houghton College had a contest to name this publication. Keith Farner, a student at the time, suggested 'The Boulder' because of this story that predates the college's founding:

"In 1825, the Seneca Native Americans of the Houghton area sold their land to settlers, including one with a family by the name of Houghton. A Seneca named Copperhead claimed he had not received proper payment for the land. He believed the settlers of the area owed him a living, which he was given. He died at the age of 120 from burns he sustained after his cabin burned down and was buried next to his cabin at the intersection of Centerville and Old River Road. After heavy rains, the creek next to his house threatened to wash his remains down the hill. In 1914, after reading an article in the STAR about the matter, the students and friends raised money to move Copperhead's remains and established a monument for him. He is currently buried under a large boulder near the map as you drive up the hill to Campus." - As told by Meredith Toombs '12
