Third Artist Series Presents G. Kander

Tonight at eight o'clock the Houghton College Artist Series will present its third performance of the season, Gerhard Kander, violinist.

Mr. Kander was born in Germany into a musical family. He studied under two world-famous violinists, Carl Flesch and Adolph Busch. His successful debut took place in Berlin in 1936, but darkening political clouds caused the young artist to move, first to England, then to Canada. Mr. Kander is now a citizen in the latter nation.

The violinist has played extensively throughout the Dominion in recital and orchestra. Recently he has appeared in both New York and Boston, and performed with many of the leading symphony orchestras—the San Francisco Orchestra under Pierre Monteux, the Minneapolis Symphony under Dimitri Mitropoulos, the Cleveland Orchestra under Rudolf Rigwald, the Baltimore Symphony under Reginald Stewart, the Toronto Symphony under Sir Ernest MacMillan, the Vancouver Symphony under Jacques Singer, and the Quebec Symphony under the direction of Wilfred Pelletier.

Following are a few press tributes to Mr. Kander's performances in leading cities:

"Violin playing with the bloom of beauty upon it, continuously probing the depths of art. He has become a young master in his own right."

Winnipeg Free Press

"Gerhard Kander gave an exquisite performance of Mozart's Violin Concerto in A major. The silken loveliness and noble intelligence of this young artist have received particular attention from conductors and critics all over the continent."

Vancouver News-Herald

"The violinist's bow was ever firm on the strings and provided effortless flexibility of sound and articulation. The tone sings and glows with remarkable intensity."

New York Times

Dr. Paine Present At Middle States Association Confab

President Paine, Professor Stockin, and Miss Davison represented Houghton College at a meeting of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools over the Thanksgiving weekend. Dr. Paine, along with other college presidents, went to the general business meeting, while Mr. Stockin and Miss Davison attended meetings of the classical professors and registrars respectively.

The Association passed an important issue at its business meeting to begin accrediting Bible schools, technical schools, and other institutions of learning that fall into this category. This motion will take effect in January 1954. The reason behind this is that other groups have set themselves up to undertake the accreditation of these schools, using for an excuse the fact that all major associations have omitted this duty.

What dignified member of the administrative staff was observed coursing rapidly down the college hill on a sled piloted by Ron Ulrich last Tuesday night? Could it have been our esteemed Academic Dean? Aha, Dr. Lynip, so that is how you spend your leisure!

GERHARD KANDER

Draft Status Considered

A recent Gallup Poll shows that 69 per cent of the country thinks students getting good marks in college should be allowed to graduate before being drafted; and slightly more than half feel that 18-year-olds who have finished high school should be drafted.

If you have a 2S draft deferment, it's likely that the board won't bother you till the end of this year.

Selective Service officials say the manpower situation will be adequate till June. But next year there will be a manpower shortage which may make it necessary to draft men under 19.

Draft director Lewis B. Hershey said 4 weeks ago that tighter regulations are due, which would "reduce the number in college whose military service has been deferred."

He contemplated a program in which "military training should precede college training."

H. C. Debate Team Becomes Charter Member of League

The Houghton College Debate Team, composed of Doris Tysinger, and John Seeland affirmative team, and Carl Schultz and Dave Seeland negative team journeyed to Niagara University November 21 and 22 for the first annual debate tournament sponsored by the Western New York State Forensic League. The league, of which Houghton is a charter member is composed of the following schools: Niagara U., St. Bonaventure, Canisius, U. of Buffalo, U. of Rochester, Geneseo, Fredonia, and Houghton. The tournament consisted of three rounds of debate. Houghton came out with a won 2 and lost 4 record, the affirmative team losing three and the negative winning two and dropping one. The affirmative lost to Geneseo, U. of Rochester and Fredonia while the negative defeated Canisius and Niagara U., losing to St. Bonaventure. Members of the Houghton team took 3 best speaker awards: Doris Tysinger, Carl Schultz and Dave Seeland, taking one each. Five second best speaker awards went to Doris, John and Carl, taking one each, with Dave coping two. Geneseo won the tournament with a 5-1 record. ## Student Body Election Decided on Second Ballot

Band Concert Displays Varied Moods in Music

The Houghton College Band presented its first concert of the season Wednesday evening, December 3, in the college chapel with Professor Ralph Moore leading the group. They played music by Sousa, Bach, Wagner and Strauss.

The first number on the program with the Overture to Tannhauser by Wagner. The true name of this opera is "The Singers' Concert at the Wartburg," and the story is based on a medieval legend.

The Pavanne from the Second American Symphonette, next on the program, is from a 16th century court dance idealized by Byrd, Gibbons, and Bach. Recently it has been taken up by Vaughan Williams and Ravel.

A Trumpeter's Lullaby by Anderson proved a simple and charming piece showing the trumpet in a new guise, that of a sleep charmer. Marche from The Love for Three Oranges by Prokofiev certainly has a rather silly and mysterious title. This work was first performed in Chicago in 1921 and the title is in keeping with the satirical trend of one school of modern musical thought.

The band's final number was Johann Strauss' Emperor Waltz. Some people consider this his best work, although it is not as well known as the Blue Danube and Vienna Woods waltzes.

Other numbers on the program were Shipshape Overture by Cowell, Sousa's The Stars and Stripes Forever, and four by Bach: A Mighty Fortress Is Our God, When Thou Art Near, Jesus My Joy, and Prelude Fugue in G Minor.

D. Beuter, R. Swauger Elected Next Year's Editors

The Star will have a feminine touch with Dorothy Beuter as editor-in-chief and the Lantern will have a junior as editor in Roberta Swauger. Ronald Ulrich will handle Business Management for the Star and Jane Stevenson for the Lantern for the school year '53-'54. The second election, held because no candidate had a simple majority in the first vote, was held Monday morning November 24 in a non-compulsory chapel by a single transferable ballot with 255 ballots cast.

Wakeman, Boel To Give Recital

December 10 Miss Bernice Boel and Mr. Richard Wakeman will be giving a musical recital in the college chapel. This is Mr. Wakeman's senior recital.

Mr. Wakeman, who will be a January graduate, has studied under Mr. Donald Butterworth, Miss Betty Erhard and Mr. Virgil Hale. Prior to his Houghton training he attended Samson college, completing three years of work in the science field. He plans to finish his studies for a science degree at Cornell University. Before attending Samson he served the U. S. Navy for 13 months traveling extensively in the East. Mr. Wakeman came from Walton, N. Y., where he attended high school, graduating in 1945.

The program will include an Aire from Oratorio by Haydn, "The Creation," and several Russian numbers, two of which are by Gretchanoff, "Slumber Song" and "In the Silence of Night." Mr. Wakeman will sing several numbers by Brahms, "Madschenleid," "Liebestraum" and "Die Fledermaus." Among Miss Boel's selections are "Hear Ye, Come Israel" from Elijah, and "Ritorna vincitor" from Aida by Verdi. The program is divided into four groups of selections for each, Mr. Wakeman and Miss Boel.

Miss Bernice Boel has taken solos in the high school glee club and has played the E flat alto in the band. At Houghton Miss Boel has been in the A Cappella Choir, Radio Choir and Chorale. Miss Boel directs the Houghton high school chorus and girls' sextet. She is a music education major. Miss Boel has studied with Mr. Virgil Hale. Mr. Richard Meloon is the lyric soprano's accompanist.

Allen Speaks On Soul Winning

Rev. William Allen, pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Rochester, N. Y., spoke at Torchbearers Monday night on the theme "Tearing up the Roof." He used the man sick of the palsy from Mark 2:1-12 as an example of a soul winner and tried to impress on the group the importance of soulwinning. "The biggest job you can ever have is to win a soul to Christ," he said. Rev. Allen also spoke in chapel on Tuesday morning and in the student prayer meeting on Tuesday evening.

Because the constitution of the literary periodicals require a simple majority for election of editor and business manager and the possible repetition of the first vote, resulting in no majority, a motion to use a single transferable ballot whereby this would be eliminated was passed by the Students present. Votes, by single transferable ballot, are transferred according to preference resulting in the highest number of votes to the candidate receiving most first or second preferences.

Mrs. Dorothy Beuter, present literary editor of the '53 Boulder and free lance writer for such Christian publications as Power and Moody Monthly, is editor-in-chief of the Star. A graduate from the Practical Bible Training School in Binghamton, New York and missionary to Haiti (1945-47), her husband was killed in an auto accident 3 years ago leaving her with two children. Dorothy, a junior, has acted as vice-president of the French club for two years and copy editor for the class edition of the Star last year. Commenting on the election she said, "I appreciate the confidence and support of the student body and I will strive to do my very best."

Miss Roberta Swauger, voted "The Girl Most Likely To Succeed" in her senior high school class, is the '53-'54 Lantern editor. Although when interviewed she declared that she is not an illustrious person, Roberta, a sophomore, was graduated third in a class of 112 in Syracuse, New York, has written many religious periodicals, has acted as proof-reader for the West Apollo Publishing House in Pennsylvania, and was a feature writer for the frosh edition of the Star last year. This year she has a half-tuition scholarship for receiving the highest grade-point index of her class last year.

Mr. Ronald Ulrich, elected Star business manager comes from Sea Side Heights, New Jersey. A junior, this year, Ron is assistant business manager of the '53 Boulder. He is also active in track and swimming for the Purple team.

Miss Jane Stevenson, Lantern business manager-elect, and sophomore who comes from Mooers, New York near Plattsburg, is a member of the student senate social committee. Jane (for the benefit of you frosh) was chairman of the Initiation committee this year. She served as Student Senator last year and has been very active in class social committees. In high school she held positions as editor of the school paper and assistant editor of the yearbook.

It is interesting to note that although the first election was very

Editorially Speaking . . . New Ally-Japan's Armed Forces Thinking Seriously . . . Essay on Criticism Aspects of Life

LOU ELTSCHER

A proper dictionary definition of criticism promotes two general ideas, to judge and to find fault.

The first definition of criticism, to judge, is perhaps the most academic, proper and the original definition. To criticize, then, is to judge. To judge has the connotation of an evaluation against a standard or criterion without prejudice. This type of criticism is illustrated by the music or literary critic or the teacher grading papers.

The second definition of criticism is the one with which we are primarily interested. The fault-finding connotation of criticism has largely become the accepted or most used definition of the word.

Just as judging is an unprejudiced evaluation against a standard or a criterion, fault finding is usually an emotionalized appeal to certain prejudices, either in others or in one's self.

The fault-finding criticism differs in another respect from the evaluation concept, in that an evaluation or judgment usually is meant to improve a situation in a preconceived pattern, while fault-finding has no discernable standard of judgment and is not directed primarily at the improvement of a situation within the usually accepted framework.

In discussing this aspect of criticism, there are at least three by-products which I believe we should examine. First, the subject of the criticism is usually exaggerated or inflated because of the emotions and prejudices of the critics.

Second, fault-finding criticism is usually directed at a personality rather than a depersonalized product of an individual, such as a work of art or a piece of literature. Since this is often the case the personality involved in the criticism is often hurt far beyond the extent of the precipitating factor. Not only is the personality hurt, but also the friends in the immediate periphery of the criticized one.

The third by-product of fault-finding criticism is imply that it hurt one's own self. Just as you feel good all over when you have done something kind or good for someone else, your soul withers and your spirit becomes soured when indulging in fault-finding criticism.

Of all the cants which are canted in this canting world, though the cant of hypocrites may be the worst, the cant of criticism is the most tormenting!

One of the chief aims of President-elect Eisenhower in regard to the Far Eastern situation is to train the Asians to defend their homeland against Communism. There has been much headway already made toward this goal. The army of South Korea is now ten divisions strong, and is being built up to eventually consist of twenty divisions. The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa are well equipped and trained to fight the Communists. American arms aid has, for some time, been furnished to Thailand, Malaya, Burma, and Indo-China. In Japan, a new army emerging as the defender of those strategic islands.

This army had its birth back in 1950, when General MacArthur started a police reserve to replace the American divisions that had gone to Korea. Since that time, the force has steadily grown, until today it has reached the status of an army. It is, and will be modest, compared to the massive military machine built up in the 1920's and '30's. The operations of the army are to be restricted to the defence of the islands; no offensive operations are anticipated.

At first glance, the new Japanese soldier might be mistaken for an American GI. The clothing and arms are all U. S. made; the army is organized, trained, and equipped by the U. S. Even the battle tactics are being patterned after the U. S. army. The old emphasis on manpower, which was characterized by "Banzai" attacks by waves of infantrymen, is being replaced by the emphasis on mobility and firepower.

The new navy is called the Maritime Guard Corps. At present, it is little more than a coast guard, but it will be expanded. The Japanese shipbuilding industry is one of the world's largest, and will begin construction of larger warships, as soon as contracts are given. No battleships or aircraft carriers are contemplated, however.

The air force, not yet started, is the subject of controversy among American officers, as well as Japanese. Some feel that the air arm should be under the command of the army. According to others, Japan's greatest need is an interceptor force, capable of protecting the islands from air attack. This force should be free from army affiliations.

The greatest problem in the rebuilding of the armed forces is the threat of a revival of militarism. In order to rearm quickly, Japan must recall most of the former officers, who have not lost their dreams of an empire. To train a new corps of officers would take many years. In an effort to cope with this problem, Premier Yoshida is recalling these officers, while insisting on civilian control.

In spite of all the problems, the new army should be able to take over Japan's defense in two years. It will take longer for the air force and navy. Nevertheless, in the event of a major conflict, the Japanese will be helpful allies to the United Nations forces.

Ten Ways to Studentship

Here are "10 Ways to Get Through College Without Even Trying," as written by Prof. Robert Tyson of Hunter College:

1. Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. If you don't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.
2. Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.
3. Nod frequently and murmur "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.
4. Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake . . .)
5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.
6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.
7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.
8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math class, match the books for size and color.
9. Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer, and in your younger brother's second reader at that.
10. Call attention to his writing. This produces an exquisitely pleasant experience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or an article, ask in class if he wrote it.

"I Like You: I'm a Dope!"

This letter was sent to the editor of the Vermont Cynic, University of Vermont:

"To the Editor: I like your newspaper. It is good. It is sometimes funny. My roommate lets me read it. I read it. I have a dog. His name is Rusty. He likes to read it. I have a cat. Her name is Kitty. She reads it. I am in the 1st grade. I am 69 years old. Mother says I'm crazy. Mother is always right. I like your newspaper. I am crazy. A friend."

I John 1:14—"That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life; (for the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;) that which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ: and these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full."

The only thing we can be certain of in this life is change. Our life itself is only temporary. The disciple speaks of Christ as "The Life" The definite article makes us see that this is the Eternal Life. John says, "I have seen and heard the Eternal Life." We could not begin to understand the Eternal Life in Himself, He had to be "made flesh and dwell among us" (John 1:14) so that we could begin to comprehend what it would mean for us to have Eternal Life within our very souls. Only Christ has the power over death; we do not have it of ourselves; it is only as we accept Him that we possess it.

John had seen the manifestation of eternal life in the body of Jesus. He had touched His flesh, looked upon Him, and heard Him speak. In his epistle he is declaring these things unto us so that we too may, through reading, have fellowship with the disciples and have the full joy which they had in knowing Him in the flesh. How precious the Bible is to each Christian, for in it we may have the joy of finding Christ. We too may see, hear, and touch Jesus.

After we have found Jesus, we may go to others and say, "we have seen, we have heard, we know Eternal Life. We have Eternal Life in us." Just as it was John's commission to tell us of the things he had known, so we are saved to go where men have not heard and tell them of Him—that their joy may be full.

We are to go with the message that "God is light, and in him is no darkness at all" (I John 1:5). John adds that in order to preach this gospel, we must "walk in the light as he is in the light" (I John 1:7). We must demonstrate to others that we have Eternal Life within us. At the end of your life sermon will you be able to write Q.E.D?

SENIORS WIN SECOND 63 - 56

JUNIORS DOWN FROSH 52 - 44

Janowsky High With 21 Points Dekker Scores 17

The senior class basketball team once more showed its fine fighting spirit despite handicaps to down the sophs 63-56 last Monday night. Even with four regulars, including Wilbur Zike, unable to play, the blue and grey won going away in the second half. Hugh Chamberlain took over the absent Zike's spot up front in the right corner of the seniors' offense pattern. He played a brilliant game displaying a good jump shot and along with Johnny Wilson had the sophs guessing all night. With Paul Dekker tallying 17 points and Dick Dole hitting for 15 points, the seniors had a smooth working team. Dole was the key to their offense. His sets from outside and cool play making kept the soph zone defence off balance all night. Four of the seniors starting five thus scored in the double figures.

Ironically enough it was the sophs' center, Phil Janowsky, who lead in the basket bombardment with 21 points. Phil was also the sophs' key rebounder and time and time again came up with the ball from the midst of several seniors. With Paul Dekker and Jim Spear jumping against him, Phil did a fine job. Jim was the seniors' top rebounder. It seemed as if after every shot that either Janowsky or Spear would come down for the rebound.

The sophs, who were pulling for their first basketball victory, played the seniors to a standstill in the first half. One of the newcomers to the senior line-up, Hugh Chamberlain, kept the seniors in the game during this time. He scored the first two buckets and went on to tally 18 points in the first quarter. The sophs trailed by one point at the quarter and two at the half. The sophs came out with a slow, deliberate long diamond offense and were working very smoothly. Many violations, however, hampered their offense and thus they lost many scoring opportunities. The score

Senior Girls Trounce Sophs

The senior girls continued in their winning ways Monday night by handily winning from the sophs 24-8. The soph offense was helpless against the smooth working senior defense. Their guards had the sophs so bottled up that they didn't score a field goal. On the other hand the senior forwards minus Jan Straley scored nine from the floor. With one member of the big three gone the senior offense wasn't as smooth as it was in the junior game. Lois Bailey and Barbara Bean, the other two members, tallied 23 points of their team's total score. Bean was high scorer with 18 points. Marge Kurtz scored 5 for the sophs, all from the foul line.

Some one said to me after the Soph-Frosh game that the basketball season here has gotten off to its best start in ten years. Perhaps that is an exaggeration but there is a great deal of truth in that statement. The Frosh have come up with a very good team; the Seniors look better than they have since their freshman year even though they have lost Ed Danks and Don Peterson to the Juniors; the class of '54 too has a well balanced team. Only the Sophs seem off the pace set by the other teams, but they will improve as the season progresses. They were hit hard by grade points and it will take them time to reorganize. Most observers thought this would be a poor season, but I think that we are going to have one of our best years; certainly one of the most exciting. From this writer's viewpoint it looks as if it will be a close race. I'm in a peculiar position in that I am a participating Junior but a classified Sophomore. As a result, perhaps, I am a little prejudiced toward the Green and White, but the Seniors have the edge now. The Juniors can hope for no more than a tie and a victory in the play-offs. The Frosh are not far behind the upper class clubs, but I think the Seniors should come out on top once they get their full-team back.

This has been one of the noisiest seasons in Houghton's history. The Sophs, Juniors and Seniors all have organized cheering sections, and both the Juniors and Sophs have organized class bands. The night the Juniors and Seniors met both the Junior Legion and the Senior G G's turned in a loud first night. The spirit from both sides was magnificent. We need more of that sort of thing, for school spirit or in this case class spirit is a wonderful thing. It adds to and enriches college life. We would like to congratulate each one of the groups. You are doing a great job!

One of the big disappointments of the football season was the mediocre attendance at the Wellsville game. When the juniors and seniors meet December 15 in Wellsville we hope there will be 100% student body attendance at the game. The boys deserve your support and it is good publicity for the school for you to turn out in force at these outside exhibitions. The game will be one of the best of the season and probably the most exciting so go to the game and cheer your team to victory.

Frosh Men Win - Girls Lose

The freshmen won their opening game of the year by winning over the sophs 63-54. The game was bitterly fought for the first half, but in the third quarter the frosh broke the game open. Lead by Herm Heintz, who tallied 32 points and Marsh Umlauf who scored 10, the frosh were never headed after that. Phil Janowsky led the soph scorers with 32 points with Jerry Angevine and Hugh Manning bagging 10 each. The soph girls won their first game of the season by winning over the frosh 18-11. Both teams scored three field goals each, but the "maroon and grey" made 12 fouls to 5 of the frosh enabling them to win. Marge Kurtz and Jimmie Gilliam were high scorers with 13 and 10 points respectively.

Lewis High With 22 Points Game Very Poorly Played

Wednesday night the juniors won over the frosh with a late rally by a score of 52-44. The passing was very bad and the shooting was below standard too. Both teams had an off night and neither one could seem to get going. The juniors made only 17 of 80 field goal attempts while the frosh were hitting on 21 of 88 attempts. This gave the juniors a shooting percentage of 21%. These figures alone tell the story. Time and time again the juniors would go under their basket and miss easy layup or rebound shots. The frosh on the other hand did a great deal of shooting from the outside. They couldn't work the ball in close and with their outside shooters not hitting their offense bogged down.

The frosh got off to a quick lead in the opening minutes with Bibb Roeski netting two jump shots and Herm Heintz a driving lay-up. Both of Roeski's shorts were from about 15 feet out on the right side. Bernie McClure scored a foul shot and cut the frosh lead to 6-1. McClure scored 3 more foul shots and Baird one to cut the lead to 6-5. Beck and McClure traded field goals and Chuck Paine scored a foul shot and the quarter closed with the score tied 8-8. Play was very sloppy and many violations were called on both clubs to account for the low score.

During second quarter both clubs traded baskets with the frosh maintaining about a four point lead throughout. Chuck Paine kept the juniors in the game with 6 points and Marsh Umlauf and Gordy Beck had 4 each for the frosh. The half closed with the juniors holding a slight edge, 20-18.

Juniors To Battle Seniors In Wellsville

The second junior-senior basketball game will be played in the new Wellsville high school gymnasium, December 15. Game time for the double header will be 7:30 p.m. with the girls playing in the first game. The gymnasium floor at Wellsville is larger than ours and not hindered by the overhanging balcony as ours is. Much of the passing off used by a player when forced deep into the corners will be eliminated, affording us a most interesting game.

Sidney Miles, director of athletics in the Wellsville school system, invited Houghton to play in Wellsville. He is greatly interested in our athletic program. This will be the second time this year that he has invited Houghton to Wellsville. If you recall, it was Mr. Miles that sponsored the Frosh-Varsity football game.

The seniors should start their regular five with James and Fountain as the guards, Bob McClure at center and Willy Zike and Johnny Wilson as the forwards. The juniors will probably counter with Bob Baird and Chuck Paine as guards, Bud Lewis in the center slot, and Bernie McClure and Ed Danks as the forwards.

The second half got under way and Bud Lewis got hot. He had been held scoreless in the first half from the floor but in the third quarter he began to find the hoop. He netted 4 of 5 field goal attempts and was a tower of strength on rebounds. The frosh started the second half with Roeski having 4 fouls on him and Heintz with 3. As a result McClure and Lewis controlled both boards for the juniors. Lewis scored 9 of his team's 4 points in this quarter and thus gave his team a 6 point lead as the quarter closed. The score read juniors 34, frosh 28.

During the fourth quarter Lewis continued hitting. He tallied 4 more field goals and added 4 fouls to give him scoring honors for the night with 22 points. The frosh almost won it in the quarter. Led by Gordy Beck they cut the junior lead to one point with 5 minutes remaining. Then they lost Heintz and Butler on fouls and the juniors went on to win the game. McClure scored a foul and then a field goal to give the juniors a four point lead. Lewis put the game away with 2 rebounds and the juniors won 52-44.

Junior Girls Win

The girls of the class of 1954 won from the frosh Wednesday night by a score of 46-37. Thalia Lazarides and Diane Clinton supplied just too much punch to the junior line-up for the younger frosh to handle. Thalia scored 20 points and Diane bagged 19 more for the green and white. The juniors displayed a good attack and as a result Diane Clinton was able to break underneath for many layup shots. She scored nine field goals and Thalia had 8, mostly from the outside. Together they were unstoppable. On the other hand the frosh showed a much better offense than they did in their first game. Evelyn Hipps and Jimmie Gilliam scored 15 and 14 points respectively. They worked together well, but most of their scoring was from the outside.

House League Divided Into Two Divisions

Coach George Wells has announced that the House League will be divided into two divisions this year. Because 12 teams submitted rosters to play ball and the shortness of time the above had to be made. There will be a playoff between each division winner to determine the League champion. This makes the schedule very similar to that of the professional National Football League. Each team will play every other team in its division and several teams from the other division.

The Lotes were the first team to win two games when they won by a forfeit from Twin Spruce on Saturday. In other games the Dry Bones won over the Athletics 42-27, Yorkwood won over the Married Men 47-30, Hazlett downed the Lecots 48-29, and Panich House won by forfeit from Mills.

Janowsky Out Front In Mens Scoring Race

The Sophomore ace, Phil Janowsky, leads the scoring race in the men's class basketball series with 43 points. "Big Phil" has been the sophomore stand-out all year; he has been averaging 21.5 points per game. Herm Heintz trails close behind with 32 points. His opening performance against the sophomores was one of Houghton's best first games for any individual player. The seniors' Johnny Wilson holds down third place with 28 points, an average of 14 per game. John has been the underrated player for the seniors but his first two games this year make him the main cog of their offense. Bob Baird is in fourth place with 23 points; however, along with Heintz's total, his does not include Wednesday's game. Willy Zike, Jerry Angevine, Paul Dekker, Dick Dole, Hughie Manning and Hugh Chamberlain follow in that order.

Bob Baird, who scored 23 points against the seniors was beautifully bottled up by Gordy Beck. Bob failed to score a field goal and didn't even get off a shot all through the second half.

Scholastic Approach

From the Varsity News, University of Detroit:

I serve a purpose in this school
On which no man can frown—
I quietly sit in every class
And keep the average down.

Rev. Tournay

Of The S. I. M.

The missionary conquest is over and all that is left are the vivid memory pictures and challenges offered by the visiting missionaries and our answers to what God wants us to do. For four years Reverend Charles Tournay has been one of the missionaries who has presented a challenge to the hearts of the faculty, students, and townspeople during the special week of missionary emphasis. Reverend Tournay being a field representative for the Sudan Interior Mission has visited countries all over the world, and has heard the lost souls crying for someone to come to them. He has seen the need for persons who will give their lives to the Lord and go out and bring them the gospel. With this in mind he presents his message.

Reverend Tournay was born in Toronto, Canada. Until the age of seventeen, athletics were the main interest in his life, but at this time he accepted Christ as his savior. Reverend Tournay entered into the business field as a commercial artist. Seeing a need for a church in their city he and his wife went to work and organized one. In this church they built up the missionary angle and it was from here that the Sudan Interior Mission contacted him and asked him to be field representative. On his tour Reverend Tournay acting as deputation administrator, went to Africa where he traveled widely, visiting the various missionaries and discussing their situation and problems with them. He never settled in any part for any length of time during this trip. Thus he brings first hand information of conditions in Africa to the conferences that he visits. His last trip was five years ago and he plans to go out again next year.

He is in charge of producing all films for the Sudan Interior Mission. Reverend Tournay has three daughters. The oldest is a high school teacher. The second oldest daughter is also a high school teacher who plans to be a missionary to the Indians in North America. His youngest is in nurses training with plans to go to Africa as a missionary when her training is completed.

The educational service sponsored by the Women's Missionary Society last Sunday evening was helpful to me in a unique way. Those half dozen students who spoke for five minutes each I believe really expressed the sentiments of the student body as a whole. According to their testimonies Houghton college is a place where one actually has the opportunity of knowing the Lord, where friendliness is the prevailing attitude, where faith is engendered, where the Bible in its totality is taught and lived, where Christ is made pre-eminent. I was particularly impressed by the compliments which each speaker paid to the faculty. One student speaker said that his professors taught both sides of truth and approached Christian problems in an unbiased manner which resulted in a genuine Biblical interpretation.

Bean Leads Girls Scoring

Barbara Bean leads all scorers in the women's division of the Class Basketball League with a total of 31 points. She has been the scoring leader in each one of the games she has participated in this year. This gives her an average of 15.5 points per game. Marge Kurtz, of the sophomores, trails a distant second with 19 points. Lois Bailey, Diane Clinton, Jan Straley, Jimmie Gilliam, Joyce Fisher and Linda McMillan complete the list.

Seniors Con't

read 34-32 at the half.

During the third quarter the seniors broke the game wide open. The sophs could only score four points and the seniors opened up a 10 point lead. Early in the fourth quarter the seniors went out to a 15 point lead. Midway in the quarter the sophs made their bid. Two one handers from the side by Ron Trail and a long set by Jack Storck cut the senior lead to 8 points. At this point in the game the seniors called a timeout and when play was resumed the sophs could not get going again. Both clubs traded several baskets and the score closed—Seniors 63, sophs 56.

close and no majorities were received, the same candidates received the highest number of votes in the second election as in the first. The distribution of votes among the candidates for first preference on the second ballot were similar percentage-wise to the plurality of votes received by the winning candidates in the first ballots. This is significant in that a little less than 50% voted in the second ballot compared to 100% in the first.

College Costs Going Higher

The training of next June's graduate is costing colleges almost one-third more than it cost to train the graduate of June, 1951. At least that is the situation at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, which reports that its cost of instruction per student has risen 31 per cent in the past two years. According to Dr. Livingston W. Houston, Rensselaer president, the graduate of June, 1953, will cost more than $2,000 above what he will have paid in tuition and other fees during his four years in college. Inflation is steadily increasing the financial dilemma faced by private educational institutions. Dr. Houston said that it is impossible to increase the tuition fees because higher rates would cut enrollment at a time when engineers are needed. —New York Times.

Club Notes

David Filmer, representing the Zoology department, was the speaker at the November meeting of the Science Club. He discussed flukes and their life cycles, with particular emphasis on a rare fluke which he had recently found while dissecting a salamander.

Nearly forty Students and faculty members enjoyed the Science Club field trip through Eastman-Kodak in Rochester recently; they visited several of the chemistry and physics departments.

The Midnight Watch

BY EDGAR MAGER AND JOYCE POE

Once upon a midnight dreary, while I pondered weak and weary,
Over many a quaint and curious volume of forgotten lore,
While I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a tapping,
As of someone gently rapping, rapping at my chamber door,
"Tis my roommate, nothing more."

Turning round and quickly peeping, I saw my roommate deeply sleeping
Dreaming in the lands of fancy, that I now wished to explore.
Quickly to my door I tripping, on the rag rug nearly slipping
Firmly to the door knob gripping, gripping on my chamber door.
"Tis a friend, and nothing more."

Flinging back the paneled portal, there beheld the strangest mortal;
Stern eyes and firmer jawline than I'd ever viewed before.
As I stood there widely gaping, and no breath from me escaping
Beheld the robe about her draping, draping on the shadowed floor.
Only this, and nothing more.

In a tone of grim foreboding, she exclaimed almost exploding
"My command of lights out early, you continue to ignore."
And with discipline unbending, down the stairs her footsteps wending,
With my midnight watch now ending, ending as on nights before.
The light goes out, for evermore!
