

STAR

The Houghton

THE STUDENT NEWSPAPER OF HOUGHTON COLLEGE

NOVEMBER 14 2001

Board approves housing proposal

The board of trustees approved the recent "Garden Apartment" proposal

BY JASON DOLON
Star staff

apartments, which will be an additional housing option for will house four students and cost the same as living in the Plans are in place for a thirty-six-unit apartment complex to be built and ready for students at the beginning of next fall. With the dorms filled and a large sophomore class soon to be juniors, the college is in need of increased housing. These apartments will offer increased options for those who want to live in townhouse style living but don't have or want six other people to live with. The college has seen the need for more flexible options, hence this idea of Randall Townhouses. The Garden Apartments will be similar in design.

Houghton students in the future.

These apartments will have two bedrooms, a study room, a kitchen and bath. Each apartment townhouses. These apartments will have free laundry facilities just like the townhouses and the dorms. This complex will be located on the far side of the new parking lot by the new townhouses. As part of this project

continued on page 3

Turkey drive takes flight

Thanksgiving drive to provide turkeys for community

BY NOEL HABASHY
Star staff

With Thanksgiving quickly approaching, it is generally a time when people become more appreciative of what have and realize how blessed they are. It can also be a time to recognize the great need all around.

Allegany County is the poorest counties in New York State, with nearly one fifth of all people in the county living beneath the poverty line. That lack of finances can make seemingly simple purchases seem at times out of reach.

An almost assumed purchase at this time of the year is a turkey, but that can be impossible for some families. For this reason students at Houghton College are organizing a "Turkey Drive" for the surrounding community. Emily Munro, Meredith Dyson, and Kathie Brenneman are the driving forces behind this campaign. Connecting with social services and the Jubilee Market, they hope to provide turkeys for families who need them. Jubilee is selling Houghton College vouchers for turkeys at a discounted rate of $10 per turkey. Those vouchers will be passed along to social services to distribute to families who are in need of the assistance.

What can Houghton students do to help with this drive? The biggest need is for money to buy the turkey vouchers. Students can make donations to the drive in the Info Center. Emily Munro stated, "So many times it seems like we are in this bubble, or that Houghton College is a little economic oasis in the middle of a poor county. If we are truly claiming to be disciples of Christ, then we are to live that way as servants." That is an excellent thought to keep in mind as we think of how truly blessed we are this Thanksgiving.

College kicks off fund-raising campaign

Fund-raising campaign comes out of its "quiet phase"

BY MELISANDE RICHARDSON
Star staff

On Tuesday, October 30, Doug Roorbach, Director of Public Relations, addressed the STAR staff with information that has remained within the walls of Fancher for three years. Along with Design Services Production Manager Valerie Smith and Houghton College Webmaster Steve Johnson, Doug announced the Campaign for Christian Liberal Arts at Houghton College.

Approved in January 1999, the Houghton College Board of Trustees authorized a five-year fundraising campaign to raise money for the college's operating support, facilities support, and endowment support. This is now being publicized because within the campaign's 2-3 year 'quiet' phase it proved to be a success raising almost $25 million. Doug explained, "The goal is $36 million over a five year period which has not been officially voted on yet but should be in February 2002 when the Board of Trustees meets again."

Money for the college's operating support would "increase the amount of the college budget supplied each year by the Annual Fund, so that less comes from tuition and fees." Money for the facilities support would "cover the emerging needs of the college's physical plant," and lastly, "money for endowment support would provide a foundation for financial security."

Endowment seems to be the most important aspect of this fundraiser because it provides two thirds of the college's budget. On January 1999 the Board of Trustees decided the college needed to raise money and invest it in an endowment fund - not touching the principal but rather "living off the interest." This money goes to scholarships, faculty chairs and salaries, academic programs, and technology. Most of the money is used for scholarships because as the college's mission statement is printed: "Houghton College provides an academically challenging Christ-centered education in the liberal arts and sciences to students from diverse traditions and economic backgrounds." Money provided from the endowment fund makes it possible for students from not such strong economic backgrounds to attend Houghton, and as Doug added, "We want to continue to make this possible."

The public relations department, along with Dr. Chamberlain and the board of trustees, would like the community to understand what is currently happening and will happen with the college's future. Houghton College wants to set itself apart from other Christian institutions not by words alone but with actions. Obviously there will be questions about the specifics of the campaign: "Isn't raising close to $25 million enough? After all that is a lot of money." "What does the college want from the students, staff, and faculty?" "Does the college have any prospective donors?" To

continued on page 3

i n s i d e

Delirious: deeper CD review

arthouse, page 7

Garden Apartment floor plan page 3

Rosa Gerber

America's strikes back update

President George W. Bush met with Pakistani President General Pervez Musharraf on Saturday to reconfirm Pakistan's commitment to the US-led attack on terrorism. Musharraf declared that Pakistan supported the United States. Bush and Musharraf agreed that the opposition to the Taliban, the minority Northern Alliance, should not gain control of Kabul, Afghanistan's capital; the two leaders committed to creating stability within the country.

In an interview on Wednesday, Osama bin Laden announced that he and his al-Qaeda terrorist organization had access to nuclear and chemical weapons. He claimed they would use the mass destruction weapons if the United States used any similar warfare against Afghanistan. The Bush administration reported that they did not believe the statement, yet they were taking the threat seriously. The National Security Council, however, stated that credible evidence existed that bin Laden had tried to obtain mass destruction weapons.

Bin Laden releases video slamming Muslim nations

On November 3, Al Jazeera, the Arabic television network, aired a 20-minute videotape in which Osama bin Laden declared that the Arab leaders in the United Nations "have become unbelievers of the revelation that was given to Muhammad," thus rejecting the Koran. Officials stated that bin Osama Bin Laden's supporters.

Laden is bringing more damage than support upon himself and the Taliban in the Arab world by suggesting "the leaders of Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Qatar, Bahrain, Oman, Lebanon, and even Iraq are infidels." In the video, bin Laden did not contradict the allegation of his and the al Qaeda's involvement in the September 11 attack on the United States, but he said instead that genuine Muslims rejoiced in the assaults. Bin Laden also claimed that the United States' attack on Afghanistan is targeting civilians, which the Pentagon denies.

Diamondbacks emerge victorious in World Series

The Arizona Diamondbacks beat the New York Yankees in the last inning of game 7 of the World Series.

Two outs from their fourth consecutive World Series victory, the Yankees allowed an RBI double by Tony Womack to begin their downfall; Luiz Gonsalez hit a soft single to right field to bring in the winning run and end the game.

Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling were named series MVPs.

Looking for a way to increase your ministry?

Join the Houghton College nursing home ministry team!

Meet in the Campus Center every Tuesday at 4:15 pm.

Contact Emily Schwartz or Walter Hopkins for more information.

The Houghton STAR

Bethany Schwartz
- editor in chief -

Rosa Gerber
- managing editor -

Richard Mehring
- design editor -

Beth Freeman
- business editor -

Bruce Brenneman
- advisor -

Contributing Writers:

Phil Andrews
Jason Dolon
Noel Habashy
Liz Hornor
Pete Hutchinson
Melanie Marciano
Samantha Myers

Greg On Melisande Richardson
Stephanie Smith
Christopher Stanley
Becky Williams
Julin Young
Josh Ziefle

Photography:
name

Special Contributors:
Greg Tedesco
Meredith Dyson

The Houghton Star encourages the free interchange of opinions and suggestions in the form of letters, articles, guest editorials, and advertisements. Students are especially urged to participate. We also welcome the viewpoints of faculty, staff, townspeople, alumni, and all others having an interest in the Houghton community. Ideas printed herein do not, however, necessarily reflect the view of the editorial staff, or of Houghton College. The staff reserves the right to omit or reject any contributions for reasons of professional decorum. Letters (signed) should be sent to:

The Star, CPO Box 378
(716) 567-9210
star@houghton.edu

If God Will Send His Angels

BY JOSH ZIEFLE
SGA President

On October 28th, I had the privilege of seeing the best rock band in the world live in concert. In case you didn't know, they're U2, the resilient and wide-ranging group of lads from Ireland that have been playing together since their high school days. Though I've seen them in concert before, I have to say my expectations were different this time. The events of the past months have weighed heavy upon my soul and the collective soul of our nation. Surely, I thought, lead singer Bono would be able to offer some comment and comfort to this terror-torn and weary people. Oddly enough, the concert was on a Sunday night and I just that morning had read in "Worship Leader" magazine how, for the writer, one U2 concert had been a powerful worship experience. So as we drove to the show, I was ready and expectant to be ministered to by these preachers of the modern day.

And make no mistake, they did not disappoint. During the show, Bono stopped to talk about how he'd been at Ground Zero that day and took a moment speak to the dangers of religious fundamentalism. Those of this ilk, he said, fashion their god so small that he can be handled and controlled. This has nothing to do with the God of the Universe who is far beyond our meager attempts to comprehend or manage.

Speaking to the "religious nuts and political fanatics" who despoil the faith of millions, he offered the following song, "Please," off of 1997's album "POP." Take a minute to think about the words, for like Paul's comments in 1 Corinthians 13, I tend to think they offer an important corrective and check for all:

So you never knew love/Until you crossed the line of grace/And you never felt wanted/Til you had someone slap your face/So you never felt alive/Until you'd almost wasted away/You had to win/You couldn't just pass/The smartest ass/At the top of the class/Your flying colors/Your family tree/And all your lessons in history/please...please.../Get up off your knees/Please...please...please.../Please...So you never knew/How low you'd stoop to make that call/And you never knew/What was on the ground 'til they made you crawl/So you never knew/That the heaven you keep, you stole/Your Catholic blues/Your convent shoes/Your stick-on tattoos/Now they're making the news/Your holy war/Your northern star/Your sermon on the mount/From the boot of your car/Please...Get up off your knees/Please...Leave me out of this please/So love is hard/And love is tough/But love is not/What you're thinking of/September/Streets capsizing/Spilling over/Down the drain/Shards of glass/Splinters like rain/But you could only feel/Your own pain/October/Talk getting nowhere/November/December/Remember/Are we just starting again/Please.../Get up off your knees/Please.../So love is big/Is bigger than us/But love is not/What you're thinking of/It's what lovers deal/It's what lovers steal/You know I've found it hard to receive/Cause you my love/I could never believe/

While the concert drew to an end and the group dedicated the encore to those who lost their lives in the tragedy that has enveloped our nation, I knew I had found what I came for. And as Bono ended the show singing repeated "Alleluias," I was given comfort and hope that others might as well.

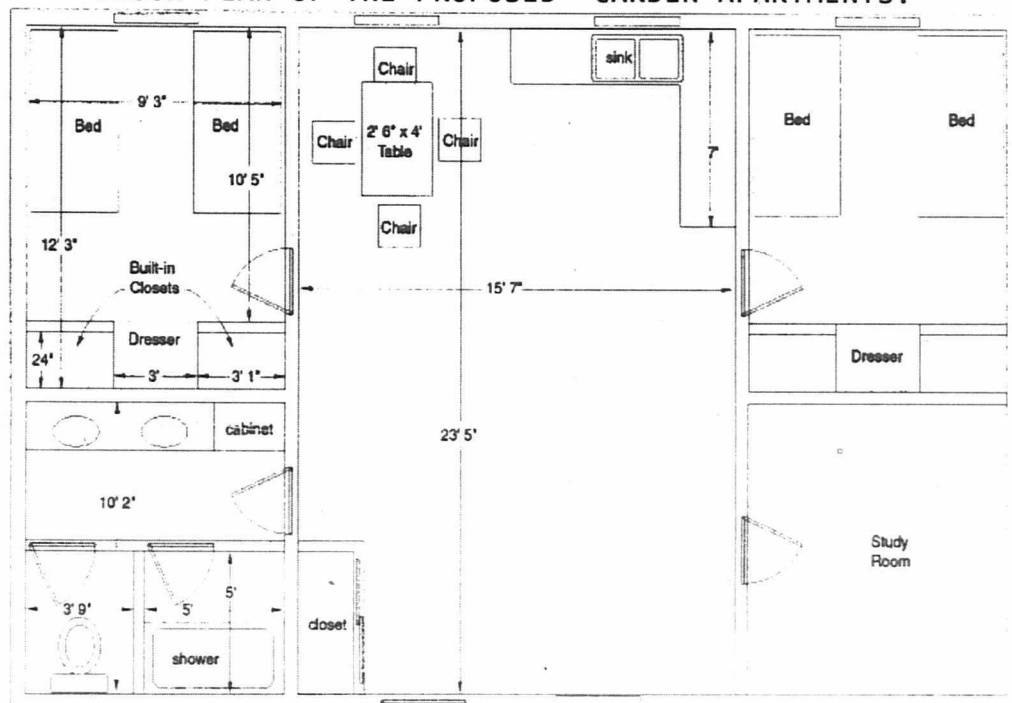

Addition of "Garden Apartments, continued from page 1

the college is planning to build a community center/ common living area by the new apartments for the use of the students who live in the apartments and townhouses.

Houghton sees the addition of these apartments as adding to the college experience. With a student body that is growing and changing there is a need for more options and flexibility in living arrangements. The new addition will be beneficial to the student body and will add to the already splendid residence facilities.

FLOOR PLAN OF THE PROPOSED "GARDEN APARTMENTS."

'Kindergarten' play profile: Rachel Kern

BY STEPHANIE SMITH
Star staff

Rachel Kern is an energetic senior who played Jill in All I Really Need To Know I Learned In Kindergarten, a play adapted by Ernest Zulia from a series of essays by Robert Fulghum. The play featured five characters who play different roles to portray true-life experiences. Rachel played twelve different kinds of people through the play, each different but with similar characteristics. Rachel has two monologues where she is speaking right to the audience; she says that the actors involve the audience more than they involve the other characters. The play is pertinent to many of issues in all of our lives.

Rachel is a 21-year-old senior who loves acting, singing, and teaching tap dancing. She is a biology major with a chemistry minor, yet still finds time to act. She is from Moors, New York, a town smaller even than Houghton. Often she uses drawing as a stress reliever and plans to become a Physical Therapist.

Shakespeare Profile: Jonathan
Wise

BY MELANIE MARCIANO
Star staff

The Shakespeare play this semester is The Merchant of Venice; it will be showing November 30th and December 1st in the recital Hall. Jonathan Wise, Hiram Ring, Julia Jacob and Mike Farrow star in this Shakespearean performance. BJ Haas, the first time director of the play is very happy with the way the play is coming along. "Practices have been going great, we are making good progress and having tons of fun."

Jonathan Wise plays the part of Bassanio a troublemaker, short on reason but full of passion. Jonathan hopes to bring life and energy to Bassanio and the play as a whole. Bassanio is typical of Shakespeare romantic interests and not a huge focal point in the play though he does display strength and incredible loyalty to his friends. The play has "feminist resolution to a detective type story."

Campaign, from page 1

answer these questions to the fullest and most brief extent: It is said that all college endowment funds should be "at least five times its annual operating budget." In Houghton's case the endowment should be nearly $100 million. There are Christian colleges in the eastern region such as Eastern and Messiah Colleges that have met the $100 million endowment fund. Wheaton College has an endowment fund equaling approximately $500 million! When comparing Houghton's endowment fund with its neighbors we see that this fundraiser is long overdue.

The college is simply asking the community for prayer. It is understood that students aren't financially well off just yet, but pledging prayer as well as giving whatever financial gifts possible would be a great help. There will be an on-campus campaign event and ideas will be appreciated as well as volunteers to help start the kickoff of the event, and starting on January 1, 2002 there will be a prayer vigil. In keeping with John's Wesley's admonition let us, "pray as though everything depends upon God."

Approaching prospective donors is already underway. President and Mrs. Chamberlain are hosting a series of dinners around the country as well entertaining on campus visits. Such possible donors include alumni, friends of the college, and others.

The campaign is projected to end in the summer of 2004. For those who may seem pessimistic about this fundraising campaign, it is possible and has already been achieved with Houghton's music program. The endowment goal of $15 million has already been achieved, and the creation of Houghton's first graduate degree program in music is underway.

The $STAR$
needs a new mast-head (that's the thing on the top of the front page)!!!!

Design a new masthead for us and if we use your design, win $50!!

Entries must be 3" x 9.25" and emailed to us by November 30th.

For more information contact Bethany Schwartz at x 1271 or the Star office at x 2100.

Basketball

previews

LADY CHAMPS READY TO ROCK

by CHRISTOPHER STANLEY
Staff writer

Coach Skip Lord is "cautiously optimistic about this year's team," but adds that Houghton College has the "best talent across the board since I've been here." Although the Highlanders now play in the American Mid-east Conference, which is tougher and more competitive, Coach Lord still set the goal for the team at the Conference Championship. More important than that, however, he went on to explain, is the goal to "

One of the ladies jumping with the ball work as hard as we can to be the best that we can, so in our success we can be an example for Christ." The coach, describing the team, noted that the balance of the team is better than ever before. Hot prospects such as Morgan Sasse, Cassandra Mills, and Kirsten Nelson (all freshmen), go together great with some returning veterans such as Alicia Mucher, a senior and one of the three captains; Natalie Nelson, a senior and described as "very difficult to stop;" Angela Layne, a junior and "arguably the best 'post' player in the Northeast;" and Joanna Beardsley, a sophomore who scored 30 points in last year's Conference Championship game. Coach Lord said that the team has been working on taking care of the ball more, and they need to do better off the boards. Although the Highlanders had a tough season last year (14-15), Coach Lord believed that this helped the team prepare for the challenging American Mid-east Conference, which the team will play in this year. Their first game is here at Houghton against Redeemer University on November 13.

Angela Layne tosses the ball last season

Houghton Cheerleading Returns

BY JULIN YOUNG
Star correspondent

In many of the previous years, Houghton College has had squad cheerleaders cheering for both soccer and basketball games. Two years ago, Houghton's squad was rather small, cheering only during basketball games. Due to the lack of a coach or faculty advisor last year, there was no cheerleading squad. This year, however, brings new faces and cheers under the direction of Coach Christen Baker. Under Christen and co-captains Melanie Sheerer and Julin Young, the squad is getting ready for a great season of cheering on Houghton's women's and men's basketball teams. The thirteen-member squad includes Melanie Sheerer, Julin Young, Mary Bolton, Danielle Daleb, Kelcey Stack, Kristen Stevens, Gina Cintron, Krissy Hackimer, Rachel Bender, Darcy Stevens, Kim Aldred, Caroline Rainis and Rebecca Melfi. They also have one mascot. Coach Lord has been very supportive of this year's cheerleading squad, asking them to join the teams on road trips and other expeditions. The girls are excited about once again having the opportunity to support the teams. Don't miss them at home games!

The '99 - '00 Houghton cheerleaders. The girls are back again for another great season of cheering on their favorite Houghton teams.

In Question:

What winter sport would you like to see at Houghton?

no photo available

"Snow football"

Chris Stanley (freshman)

"Luge-ing"

Juliet Barry (sophomore)

Men's basketball preparing to shoot for the stars

BY CHRISTOPHER STANLEY
Staff writer

After a 2-25 season last year, Coach Brad Zarges is looking forward to this next season and is "very excited" about the progress the team made last year. "We'll probably play a lot of close games again," says Zarges, "but we expect to win more than we did last year." He noted that a goal was to make the playoffs in a new conference (American Midwest), but that the primary goal was to go out and represent Christ well "not only to ourselves, but to other teams we play as well".

Jeremy Thomas makes a shot in the '00-'01 season

Some hot prospects the coach referred to are the three new players: Joel Hamilton - a 6'7" transfer-sophomore at the post position; Adam Zoeller - a 6'4" freshman, an excellent outside shooter who will most likely play the "three" spot; and Phil Nelson - also a 6'4" freshman who will be at the "forward" slot. Of the 14 players on the roster, 11 are returning veterans. A couple of those veterans are Seth Edwards and Ryan Pauling, both seniors at the guard position; Justin Pauley, a sophomore and the leading scorer for the team last year; Seth Rapier, a sophomore at point; and Jeremy Gorham, a junior. Both Justin and Seth were given Honorable Mention for All-Conference last year as freshmen.

When asked what the team had been working on since last year, Coach Zarges replied that the team has changed some things on defense and have been working hard on taking care of the ball. While developing the players' skills, the coach also noted that the team is still working on becoming physically stronger. The first game for the men's basketball team is at home against Redeemer University

A junior in last season, Ryan Pauling takes a shot

Justin Pauley leaps for a shot on November 13th. The men are excited about the season to come.

Men's Basketball Schedule 2001-2002

Date	Opponent	Location
Nov 10, 2001 2:00 PM	tba (scrimmage)	Home
Nov 13, 2001 8:00 PM	Redeemer University	Home
Nov 20, 2001 8:00 PM	University of Pitt/Brad	Away
Nov 30, 2001 8:00 PM	University of Rio Grande	Away
Dec 1, 2001 4:00 PM	Shawnee State University	Away
Dec 4, 2001 8:00 PM	Daemen College	Home
Dec 8, 2001 2:00 PM	Tiffin University	Home
Dec 11, 2001 8:00 PM	Five Towns College	Home
Dec 15, 2001 2:00 PM	Notre Dame College of Ohio	Home
Dec 31, 2001 2:00 PM	Virginia Intermont	Away
Jan 1, 2002 4:00 PM	King College	Away
Jan 4, 2002 6:00 PM	Mt. Vernon Nazarene	Home
Jan 5, 2002 2:00 PM	Ohio Dominican College	Home
Jan 8, 2002 7:00 PM	Mt. Aloysius College	Away
Jan 12, 2002 7:30 PM	Cedarville University	Away
Jan 15, 2002 7:30 PM	Daemen College	Away
Jan 19, 2002 4:00 PM	Elmira College	Home
Jan 22, 2002 8:00 PM	Roberts Wesleyan College	Away
Jan 25, 2002 7:30 PM	Malone College	Away
Jan 26, 2002 4:00 PM	Walsh University	Away
Jan 28, 2002 7:00 PM	Elmira College	Away
Feb 2, 2002 4:00 PM	Urbana University	Away
Feb 8, 2002 8:00 PM	Point Park College	Home
Feb 9, 2002 6:00 PM	St. Vincent College	Home
Feb 12, 2002 6:00 PM	Roberts Wesleyan College	Home
Feb 14, 2002 6:00 PM	Notre Dame College of Ohio	Away
Feb 16, 2002 8:00 PM	Geneva College	Home

Women's Basketball Schedule 2001-02

Date	Opponent	Location
Nov 10, 2001 6:00 PM	Brockport State (Scrimmage)	Home
Nov 13, 2001 6:00 PM	Redeemer University	Home
Nov 20, 2001 6:00 PM	University of Pitt/Brad	Away
Nov 30, 2001 6:00 PM	University of Rio Grande	Away
Dec 1, 2001 2:00 PM	Shawnee State University	Away
Dec 4, 2001 6:00 PM	Daemen College	Home
Dec 8, 2001 4:00 PM	Tiffin University	Home
Dec 11, 2001 6:00 PM	Central State	Home
Dec 15, 2001 4:00 PM	Seton Hill College	Home
Jan 2, 2002 7:00 PM	Brock University	Away
Jan 4, 2002 8:00 PM	Mt. Vernon Nazarene	Home
Jan 5, 2002 4:00 PM	Ohio Dominican College	Home
Jan 9, 2002 6:00 PM	York College of NYC	Away
Jan 10, 2002 6:00 PM	Five Towns College	Away
Jan 12, 2002 5:30 PM	Cedarville University	Away
Jan 15, 2002 5:30 PM	Daemen College	Away
Jan 19, 2002 2:00 PM	Carlow College	Home
Jan 22, 2002 6:00 PM	Roberts Wesleyan College	Away
Jan 25, 2002 5:30 PM	Malone College	Away
Jan 26, 2002 2:00 PM	Walsh University	Away
Jan 29, 2002 7:00 PM	Ursuline College	Away
Feb 2, 2002 2:00 PM	Urbana University	Away
Feb 8, 2002 6:00 PM	Point Park College	Home
Feb 9, 2002 8:00 PM	St. Vincent University	Home
Feb 12, 2002 8:00 PM	Roberts Wesleyan College	Home
Feb 14, 2002 8:00 PM	Notre Dame College of Ohio	Away
Feb 16, 2002 6:00 PM	Geneva College	Home

"Ice fishing"

Janel Lyle (sophomore)

"Downhill kayaking"

Jonathan Hnatiuk (freshman)

VOX

expressions

voice

of a community of faith

SENIOR PERSPECTIVE

by Phil Andrews

How much do we spend a year to go to Houghton College? $21,000+. Why such a large amount, I often hear people inquire? Well, at first I considered how much food I can eat at one sitting in the cafeteria, and it all made sense. But then I also have to realize how many meals I have missed and it seems that Fred Libick owes me some money. Unfortunately he forgot his wallet at home, otherwise I would have been reimbursed. I am sure of it. So where does all this money go...maybe the basketball team needs more lobster dinners, possibly Houghton College has a fleet of VW bugs and PT Cruisers on the way. I imagine the high cost of keeping the library full of up to date books costs big bucks. Point being Houghton College students do not know why it costs so much to go to school here. Because of this fact, they can never be happy. I hear them complaining day in and day out about some injustice done to them by Uncle Dan Chamberlain (ie. the big guys upstairs). I have heard people complain about the quad not being grassy enough, about Brenneman being too good of a teacher, about this past SPOT being too funny, and about girls getting the new Perkins Townhouses.

These are all valid gripes/injustices yes, but something new has come up. An injustice of monumental proportion is upon us, and if we don't stand up for our rights, we will be taken advantage of from this day forward. On November 9th on the quad, let us meet together to protest the weak toaster on the right side of the cafeteria. It is common knowledge that toast must be put through at least twice to be toasted. Do you not realize this extra 30 seconds of our time is being stolen from us, like a thief in the night? Let us paint our protest signs, shackle ourselves together on the chapel stage, voice our chants, and not leave till the state police use tear gas to drag us away.

So I ask you my fellow student, my fellow griper, are you going to sit by and let your toast get lightly toasted when you want it dark? You paid for this toaster, $21,000+ you did. Houghton should be able to meet every individuals need to the T. That's the problem here, they don't realize this fact. Let us gripe till they do.

If you are interested in drawing a cartoon or writing a column or a funny piece for this vox section, please email Rosa Gerber or Bethany Schwartz we're always interested in what you have to say!

CONSTRUCTIVE CYNICISM

IT WOULD SOON BECOME APPARENT TO THE REST OF THE CAMPUS THAT THE RAPTURE HAD OCCURRED...AND REC. MAJORS WERE THE ONLY ONES INVITED.

the resurrected

TOP TEN...

Rejected New Vision Week Seminars

by Greg On

10 Approaching missions in Antarctica: Penguins are people too

9 Discerning the missions call: One ring for yes, two rings for no

8 Raising support: How to sucker people out of money

7 Ministry in Latin America: Donde esta un bano? The most important sentence in Spanish

6 Unexpected problems: So now you're in a kettle

5 Ministry in impoverished areas: Learning ebionics, yo

4 Bonding with nationals: Superglue as an agent

3 Ministry in Europe: Football as soccer

2 Fitness and mission: lean meat is bad meat

1 Vengeance is mine, sayeth the Lord, I will repay: The Christian response to Montezuma's Revenge

QUIP OF THE WEEK

quip (kwip) n. 1. clever or witty remark or "If I get this position there will be a plethora of candy." 2. a sarcastic remark or retort; taunt; gibe. -4- / quipped. -Jenn Carl on becoming the new administrative assistant of the department of residence life- forsooth, indeed (used sarcastically).

send your quotes to star@houghton.edu or CPO box 387 arthouse

A look at the intersection of faith and art

Video review: a look at Soylent Green

BY GREG ON
Star staff

Have you ever been with a group of friends one night and found yourselves wanting to rent a cheesy movie? Or maybe you've been home alone and just needed an incredibly campy movie? If so, I recommend the movie "Soylent Green," starring Charlton Heston. The year is 2022. New York City teems with over 40 million citizens; half are unemployed. Strawberry jam costs $150 dollars a jar, lettuce and rancid meat are delicacies affordable only to the rich and powerful. Euthanasia is encouraged at government-sponsored clinics. Blue skies, green plants, and clean water are forgotten by all except the old. Women are reduced to "furniture," attached to apartments and the men who own them. The food supply to the common man is controlled across the world by the Soylent Company, which produces thin, wafer-like products called Soylent. In the middle of all this is Charlton Heston, portraying a policeman by the name of Thorne. His latest case is that of the murder of a former magnate in the Soylent Company. His informant, played by Edward G. Robinson, Sol, is old enough to remember the good old days of cheap meat, sunshine, and democracy. What Thorne discovers in his investigation, however, is not who committed the murder. Instead, he discovers a terrifying secret about Soylent Green, the most popular brand of Soylent.

Why do I recommend "Soylent Green?" First, it is a movie which has been parodied many times over, especially on "Saturday Night Live," and is worth seeing to gain an appreciation of its context. Its closing line has become a classic, and is worth waiting the entire movie for. It easily ranks in Charlton Heston's three most famous phrases, along with "Get your paws off me, you dirty ape" from "Planet of the Apes," and "Let my people go" from "The Ten Commandments." Second, it is vintage Charlton Heston, and any movie with Mr. Heston is worth watching at least once, if just to laugh at him. Finally, it just is a good movie. From the sheer delight the characters get from things we take for granted to the suspense of wondering what's going to happen next, "Soylent Green" holds one's attention and does not let go.

While not available at the school library, one should be able to find "Soylent Green" at a local Blockbuster, and is easily obtainable over eBay. It's worth finding and seeing at least once.

When I think about pioneers of the modern worship experience, one band pops out in my mind right away—Delirious. You may not know this, but many of the popular worship songs we sing today have been conceived by Delirious front man Martin Smith. Songs such as, "I Could Sing of Your Love Forever," "I've Found Jesus," "Shout to the North," "Lord You Have My Heart," and a host of others all have come from this band.

Their latest project,

"Deeper," combines favorite worship from previous albums into one worship experience on two CDs. This disc introduces new versions of six classic Delirious songs, along with a new song, "Not Forgotten." Along with the new additions, it is a collection of worship hits from previous discs. This includes the hit "Deeper." I threw the first disc in my stereo and loved how the music flowed from track to track. The same hold true with the second. It truly is a definitive worship experience.

When looking at a band on all levels, I try to catch a live show to really see what they are about and what they put into the music they play. A Delirious concert is a worship experience on all levels. My friend Michelle put it best, "They are there to worship God. They are not about putting on a show to please the crowd, they are all about pleasing God and leading the crowd in worship to the Creator."

Delirious is the kind of band where you put in a disc and can be ministered to just chilling or even when you are rocking out. They are about loving the Lord and telling the Lord how much they love Him through song. They deal in searching and the perils of Christian life. A couple of my favorites on the CD, other than those that I listed earlier, are "Sanctify," "History Maker," and "What A Friend I've Found." Those are just a few, for there are too many more to name. This CD captures Delirious's vision. Their purpose can be expressed in the hit "Deeper." "I want to go deeper, but I don't know how to swim. I want to be meeker, but have you seen this old earth. I want to fly higher, but these arms won't take me there. I want to be... maybe I could run... maybe I could fly, to you... do you feel the same, when all you see is blame in me? And the wonder of it all is that I'm living just to fall more in love with you. And the wonder of it all is that I'm living just to fall more in love with you."

Delirious is the type of band where many generations and age groups accept the music they create. In my church, for instance, the older people love the worship just as much as the younger teenagers. This band captures a true form of worship. Give this project a listen. I highly recommend it.

Serving your neighbor by Meredith Dyson

A chill is in the air, and it seems that winter has settled in early as usual. With the onset of cool weather, our thoughts inevitably turn toward the holiday season and the joy of coming festivities. However, for many this time of year brings sorrow, as families in this very county struggle to keep warm and fed.

Normally, the realization of such need leads to a sense of overwhelming despair. After all, what can we poor college students do to alleviate the suffering of the masses? Fortunately, this year there are some very simple yet effective ways that you can get involved with reaching out to this county. You can contribute your time, your money, or even your unwanted clothing to help someone in need.

Right now the Information Center has become the hub of new student and staff initiated projects dedicated to assisting the needy in Allegany County. You can help in three important ways.

First, you can donate funds to the Turkey Drive. Recipients identified by social services will be given a coupon for a free turkey, which they can redeem at Jubilee. Randy Ellis, the manager of Jubilee, has agreed to sell us the turkeys at cost. Just $10 will provide the main dish for a family's Thanksgiving dinner. A can in the Information Center is available to place your donations.

Second, you can give some of your time to help fix up the room which will house the future food pantry at the Houghton Wesleyan Church. Kathie Brenneman is currently in charge of this project and would welcome student help in painting, organizing shelves, or packaging food. Sign up to help out with this ministry in the Information Center.

Finally, if you have any clothing to spare, you can bring used clothing to the Information Center as well. Any clothing that is donated will be taken to My Sister's Closet in Fillmore. This second hand store is operated on the basis of donation and distributes clothing free of charge to those in need.

As Christians, we are called to help those in need. With Thanksgiving and Christmas approaching, now is a good time to take stock of all of God's blessings and pass some on to those less fortunate than we. I think Jesus called it "loving your neighbor as yourself."

Highlander SPORTS

November 1 - 14

Recent sports scores:

Men's Soccer

Houghton 1
Malone 0

Houghton 1
Roberts Wesleyan 0

Houghton 0
Rio Grande 2

Women's Soccer

Houghton 3
Tiffin 1

Houghton 3
Ohio Dominican 2

Cross country season takes a wrap

BY LIZ HORNOR

Sports writer

Teamwork, giving everything you have, and trusting

God for strength are three principles that the cross-country teams have relied on this season and they continued this practice through the AMC Regional meet on November 3rd at the University of Rio Grande in Ohio. The women's team placed 5th out of 13 teams.

Everyone put forward a strong effort;
Kim
Sayre led the team coming in 23rd with her best time of the season at 20:14.

Additionally, there were 5 personal records on the women's team: Liz

Hornor (20:17), Rita Pazral
(21:46), Melody Gifford (21:50), Marzella Mayo (22:22), and Jen Kinman (22:43).

Placing 10th out of 11 teams in a strong region, the men's team had several good individual performances either achieving personal records or courageously running through injuries. Tim Cook (27:49), Larry Petry (28:08), and Chris Buell (28:14) led the team, and Chris Mancuso (29:50), Don Merriam (30:30), and Pete Sumner (32:24) all ran personal record races. Congratulation Highlanders on a terrific 2001 season!

Ladies advance to finals

Diane Benedict broke a 2-2 tie to give third-seeded Houghton the win. Houghton captures its second NAIA Region IX title and advances to the NAIA National Tournament for the third time in four years.

Andrea
Stoos picked up the assist on the game-winning goal.

The Highlanders scored first

when an Ohio Dominican player knocked the ball into her own net.
Johanna Berryman was credited with the assist. The Panthers came right back to tie the score less than a minute later.

JoAnna Beardsley put the Highlanders back up by one with an unassisted goal in the 74th minute, but ODC responded again in the 82nd minute. Then Benedict closed the scoring two minutes later.

Women's soccer seeded 12th in National Tournament

The NAIA has seeded the Houghton College women's soccer team 12th in the 16-team National Championship Tournament in St.
Charles, Mo., to be held November 15-20. The Highlanders face No. 5 seed Westmont College in a first-round match Friday, Nov. 16 at 8:30 p.m. Eastern.

This is Houghton's third trip to the national tournament in the past four seasons. The Highlanders (18-1-2) captured their second NAIA Region IX title with a 3-2 win over Ohio Dominican College on Saturday.

Houghton's high-scoring offense has tallied 90 goals, while the defense has given up only 12 and registered 13 shutouts.
Freshman forward Cassandra Mills is the top scorer with 12 goals and 15 assists for 39 points. Senior midfielder Heather Mann has 13 goals and eight assists for 34 points, while junior midfielder Andrea Stoos has 13 goals and six assists.

This is Westmont's sixth-straight national tournament appearance. The Warriors (15-4), ranked fourth in the final NAIA poll, earned one of two at-large berths in the tournament after losing in the Region II semifinals last week. Sophomore forward Karin Sullivan leads the attack with 16 goals and seven assists. Junior forward Janel Kaden has added 12 goals and six assists. They have outscored their opponents 63-11.

These two teams met at nationals two years ago with Westmont earning the 2-0 win on its way to the national title.
A win against Westmont would likely pit the Highlanders against Lindenwood University, the host school and No. 4 seed in the tournament. The Lions (16-5-0) claimed the Region V championship and were national runners-up last season. The second-round match would take place on Saturday, Nov. 17, also at 8:30 p.m.
Eastern.

The semifinals and finals will be held on Monday and Tuesday,
Nov. 19-20.

Men fall to undefeated Rio Grande

BY JASON MUCHER
Houghton College Staff

The men's soccer team lost with a disappointing score of 2 - 0 to Rio Grande on Friday, November 10. Goals were scored in the 30th and 90th minutes. No. 1 seed Rio Grande held a 10-8 advantage in shots, including a 6-5 advantage in shots on goal.
Houghton keeper Steve Cox made four saves.

Houghton finished the season with a 14-6-1 record. Rio Grande is 21-0-1 and advances to the NAIA
National Tournament, November 15-20. They are ranked No. 4 in the latest NAIA National poll.

Highlander SportsWeek

Volleyball

Friday, Nov 16
NAIA Conference Qualifier

Saturday, Nov 17
NAIA Regional Qualifier

Men's Soccer

Nov 15-20
NAIA National Tournament

Women's Soccer

Nov 15-20
NAIA National Championship

Men's Basketball

Tuesday, Nov 13, 7:30 pm
Redeemer University - Home

Tuesday, Nov 20, 8 pm
University of Pitt. Bradford - Away

Tuesday, Nov 27, 7 pm
Brock University - Away

Women's Basketball

Tuesday, Nov 20, 6 pm
University of Pitt. Bradford - Away

Friday, Nov 30, 6 pm
University of Rio Grande - Away