Volume XIV

DEDICATION

TO THE BOULDER . . . Houghton's traditional link with the Past . . . "Founded on The Rock" . . . symbol of indomitableness, steadfastness, permanence . . . WE DEDICATE THIS VOLUME . . . in the hope . . . and belief . . . that the Past has endowed our Alma Mater with the firm foundation necessary to establish the "Greater Houghton with a Grander Ministry" of the Future . . .

FOREWORD

WHAT THE CHAPEL BELL is to late risers, this volume of the BOULDER is to you, the STUDENT BODY of Houghton College. It serves to AWAKEN you

To the pleasant experiences and associations of the past year.

To the number of friends you have made at Houghton.

To the loyalty you owe your Alma Mater and its traditions

To the fact that the year 1936-1937 was one of the happiest you have ever known.

THIS IS NOT A BOOK only. It is a pictorial diary. Take it wherever you go, that it may prove a constant companion; an old friend; a treasure chest in which you keep locked the store of ambitions, ideals, and accomplishments of your campus days.

1936-1937 CELEBRITIES

ROMAN TOTENBERG, violinist

On the evening of December 1, 1936 this young Polish virtuoso gave the first recital of the 1936-1937 Artist's series. Two weeks before his appearance at Houghton, Totenberg and his famous "Long-Strad" violin were featured at Town Hall, New York City.

SASCHA GORODNITZKI, pianist

Gorodnitzki came to Houghton with fresh heralding from his Carnegie Hall recital, where critics were unanimous in hailing him as a virtuoso of the first rank. His recital, on the evening of January 7, 1937, was well-encored.

LOUIS UNTERMAYER, poet, critic, anthologist

Appeared on the Houghton platform Tuesday morning, February 2. His lecture consisted of an informal discussion of poetry and culture and the reading of several of his own poems, notably "Caliban of the Coal Mines." His accomplishments in the field of literature are divided into four parts: poetry, parody, translations, and prose.

EARLE SPICER, baritone

Probably the most popular artist featured on Houghton's concert platform this year was Earle Spicer, baritone. He presented an unusual program, made up entirely of English and American ballads. His informality of manner as well as the character of his program led to encore after encore from his enthusiastic audience.

IN APPRECIATION . . .

A distinctive privilege and extreme pleasure have been ours in having had the production of this book. We gave more than craftsmanship of printing, and the fulfillment of a contract. A deeper regard guided us . . . We became as a fellow part of the school and the student body, entering into the spirit of the book's purpose and its contents and so lending our inspired loyalty to its every detail of issuance. And in that degree of appreciation to the staff, the graduate and undergraduate, and to your school, we wish continued success.
