

BOULDER

EST 1924

Dedication

Everyone who was on campus in March of 2020 remembers what it was like. The shock of getting sent home. The tension in the world. The tears, the rush to pack, the waiting around and saying goodbye, strange moments in which the situation brought us together.

The fact that almost nobody bothered with the new, alien concept of social distancing. The long lines in Java and the excess of caffeine and sugar as scores of people crowded in to blow half a semester's worth of flex dollars (or more) in one weekend.

But for the Class of 2020, that was it. They lost the end of their senior year, and graduated into a pandemic in full swing. The rest of us knew we could come back, and while things have been different, and hard, most of us have been here for another year.

And so we lovingly dedicate the 2021 Boulder to the Houghton Class of 2020.

Campus Shutdown

Heading Home

Clockwise from top right: Message from David Bowers '21 (RA, Roth 4W), to the men on his floor; an abandoned Gillette hallway as students clear out their dorm rooms; a message of encouragement written in chalk outside of Luckey building; and a recreation of a M.A.S.H. farewell outside of Rothenbuhler Hall. Senior Steven Raymond ('20) organized the rocks; photo was taken by Adam Funch ('20).

Graduation

Seniors have faux graduation celebrations before being sent home. Some students even made robes out of garbage bags and paraded around the quad while friends read their names.

ReOrientation Week

Above, a car arrives on campus to move-in. Below, the welcome tent outside Gillette where students checked in and received their keys and move-in forms.

In August, all students were asked to move in a week before classes started, and no in-person gatherings were allowed for two weeks to limit potential spread of Covid-19. During the first week, students were given opportunities to adjust to various changes.

Guidelines for this Week

BIG THREE
Masking - Social Distancing - Cleanliness

GATHERINGS
As everyone is transitioning to Houghton from across the world there will be no gatherings until September 7th. Keep your distance now to ensure we can be together later.

PROGRAMMING
Some sessions are geared specifically for new students, some are required for everyone. All evening programs are open to everyone whether you're on campus, haven't moved in yet, or learning remotely.

HAVE FUN
This is a unique semester for everyone. Get plugged in, do something new, and share any ideas/suggestions with cab@houghton.edu.

Equipping students to lead and labor as scholar-servants in a changing world.

ReOrientation Week Info

PRIMARYLY VIRTUAL

All links, videos, and resources are available on the Houghton website and Moodle.

MISSIONS/BADGES

Each day you will have the opportunity to complete daily missions to earn badges and prizes as you participate in various activities. Submit your accomplishments via Moodle.

MEALS

All meals from the dining hall are take-out only. Grab a nice spot outside on your own or take your meal back to your room.

All students were required to attend training on Houghton's covid policies, led by Marc Smithers and Dr. Brubaker. Below, workers start construction of Larder Courtyard, the new outdoor eating space.

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY:

MASKING

- Worn all the time when you're inside except when in your room (or when you are sitting at your table eating in the dining hall)
- Worn outside when you're "unable to socially distance"
- Covers your nose and mouth
- Cleaned daily

SOCIAL DISTANCING

- Keeping six feet of separation between you and everyone else at all times (except your roommate), even if you're masked
- Social distancing isn't possible at all of our dining room tables, so:
 - Eat with the same people whenever possible
 - Take your food to go whenever possible

Above, a student sports his commemorative ROW shirt. These shirts were given out to all students. A firework show was put on in the Field of Dreams to celebrate the conclusion of the two week moratorium on in-person gatherings and the start of in-person classes and events.

Changes Around Campus

Left, the class gift from 2019, a 'DNA strand' representing the class. Above, located between Lucky, the library and Paine, this bench was a gift from the class of 1970 to the class of 2020.

Right, one of a number of WWI memorial trees planted in November 2018. Below, Larder Courtyard was constructed in August of 2020 to create an outdoor eating space.

Above, the swing circle located outside Gillette was the class gift from 2018. Below, the Center for Student Success in Chamberlain was constructed in Fall of 2019.

Students were required to quarantine at the beginning of the both semesters if they were arriving from certain states, as well as during the semester if they were exposed to Covid-19 or experienced symptoms. Right, a poster in a window in Gillette. Below, quarantined students had meals delivered to them and laundry done for them.

During the fall semester, many doors and staircases around campus were designated to be entrances or exits only to encourage social distancing.

Below, the testing tent located outside the health center. Bottom right, when the weather was nice, students were encouraged to eat outside rather than inside the dining hall when possible.

Classes

Remote Learning

While learning at Houghton may look different for some, it has been continuously adapting and becoming more and more accessible for every student, no matter where they are.

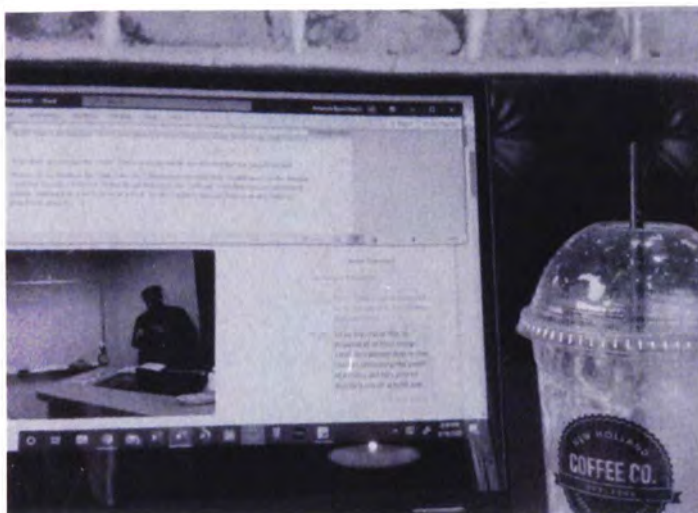

"It's very different learning remotely as opposed to on campus, but it's very manageable. It's great having a schedule and being able to organize my life around it." -Owen Lutri

"I was still able to learn what my fellow students were learning. Houghton has done a great job at making sure remote students have as good of an experience as possible." -Victoria Hock

Many remote students work from their desks daily. Students will also occasionally go to coffee shops or other locations to do their work.

One benefit of working from home is being near beloved pets. Cinnamon the cat gives support during schoolwork and classes.

Purple & Gold Week

PURPLE AND GOLD WEEK 2020

Monday

11:30-2:30 ~ P&G T-shirt Handout

5:30 ~ Disc Golf

8:00 ~ Jackbox TV Games

Tuesday

8:00 PM ~ Trivia Night

Wednesday

5:30 ~ Cornhole on the Quad

8:00 ~ Scavenger Hunt

Thursday

8:00 ~ Coffeehouse in Larder Courtyard

(rain location: Van Dyk Lounge)

Friday

9:00 ~ Houghton Photo Stroll

Saturday

10:00 PM ~ SPOT

This homecoming students participated in various online and in-person activities around campus, from cornhole on the quad to Houghton photo stroll!

First year students also received their Houghton scarves as a part of the annual Houghton tradition.

Here & Online

The Greatbatch School of Music hosted a virtual concert for all to view! It consisted of both live and pre-recorded performances by students and faculty.

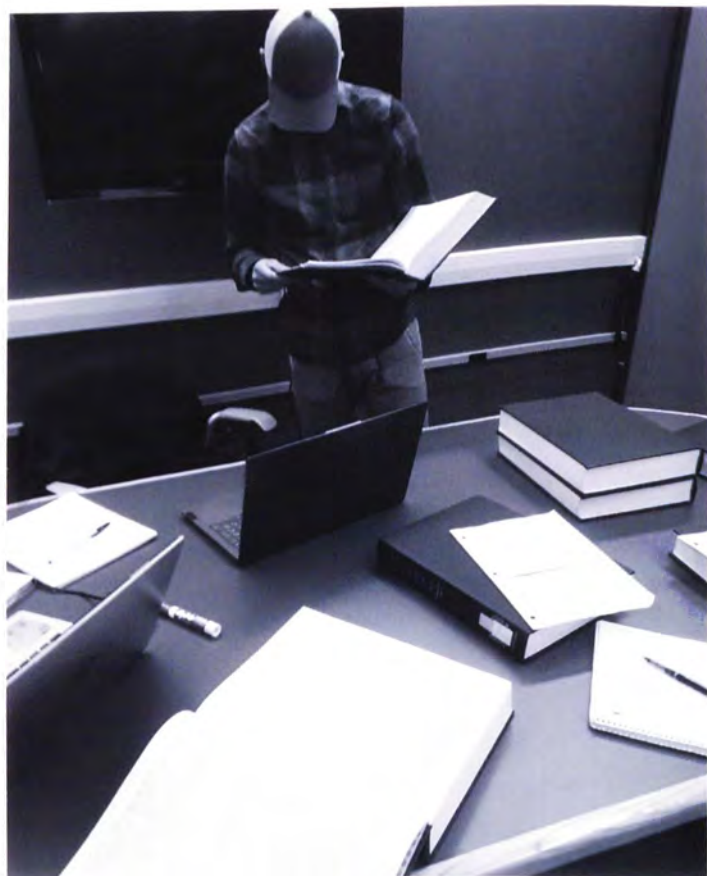

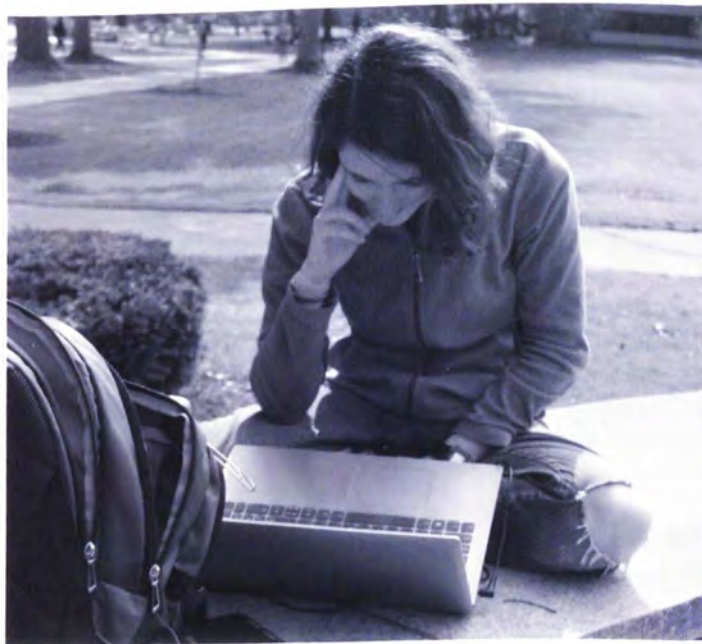

Professors Eli Knapp and Aaron Harrison hosted virtual talks about birding and natural art.

Spot host Ingrid and Jakob Knudsen hosted SPOT virtually this year, streamed live for students to tune in! It consisted of comedy, story-telling and many other talents!

Campus Life

Chapel

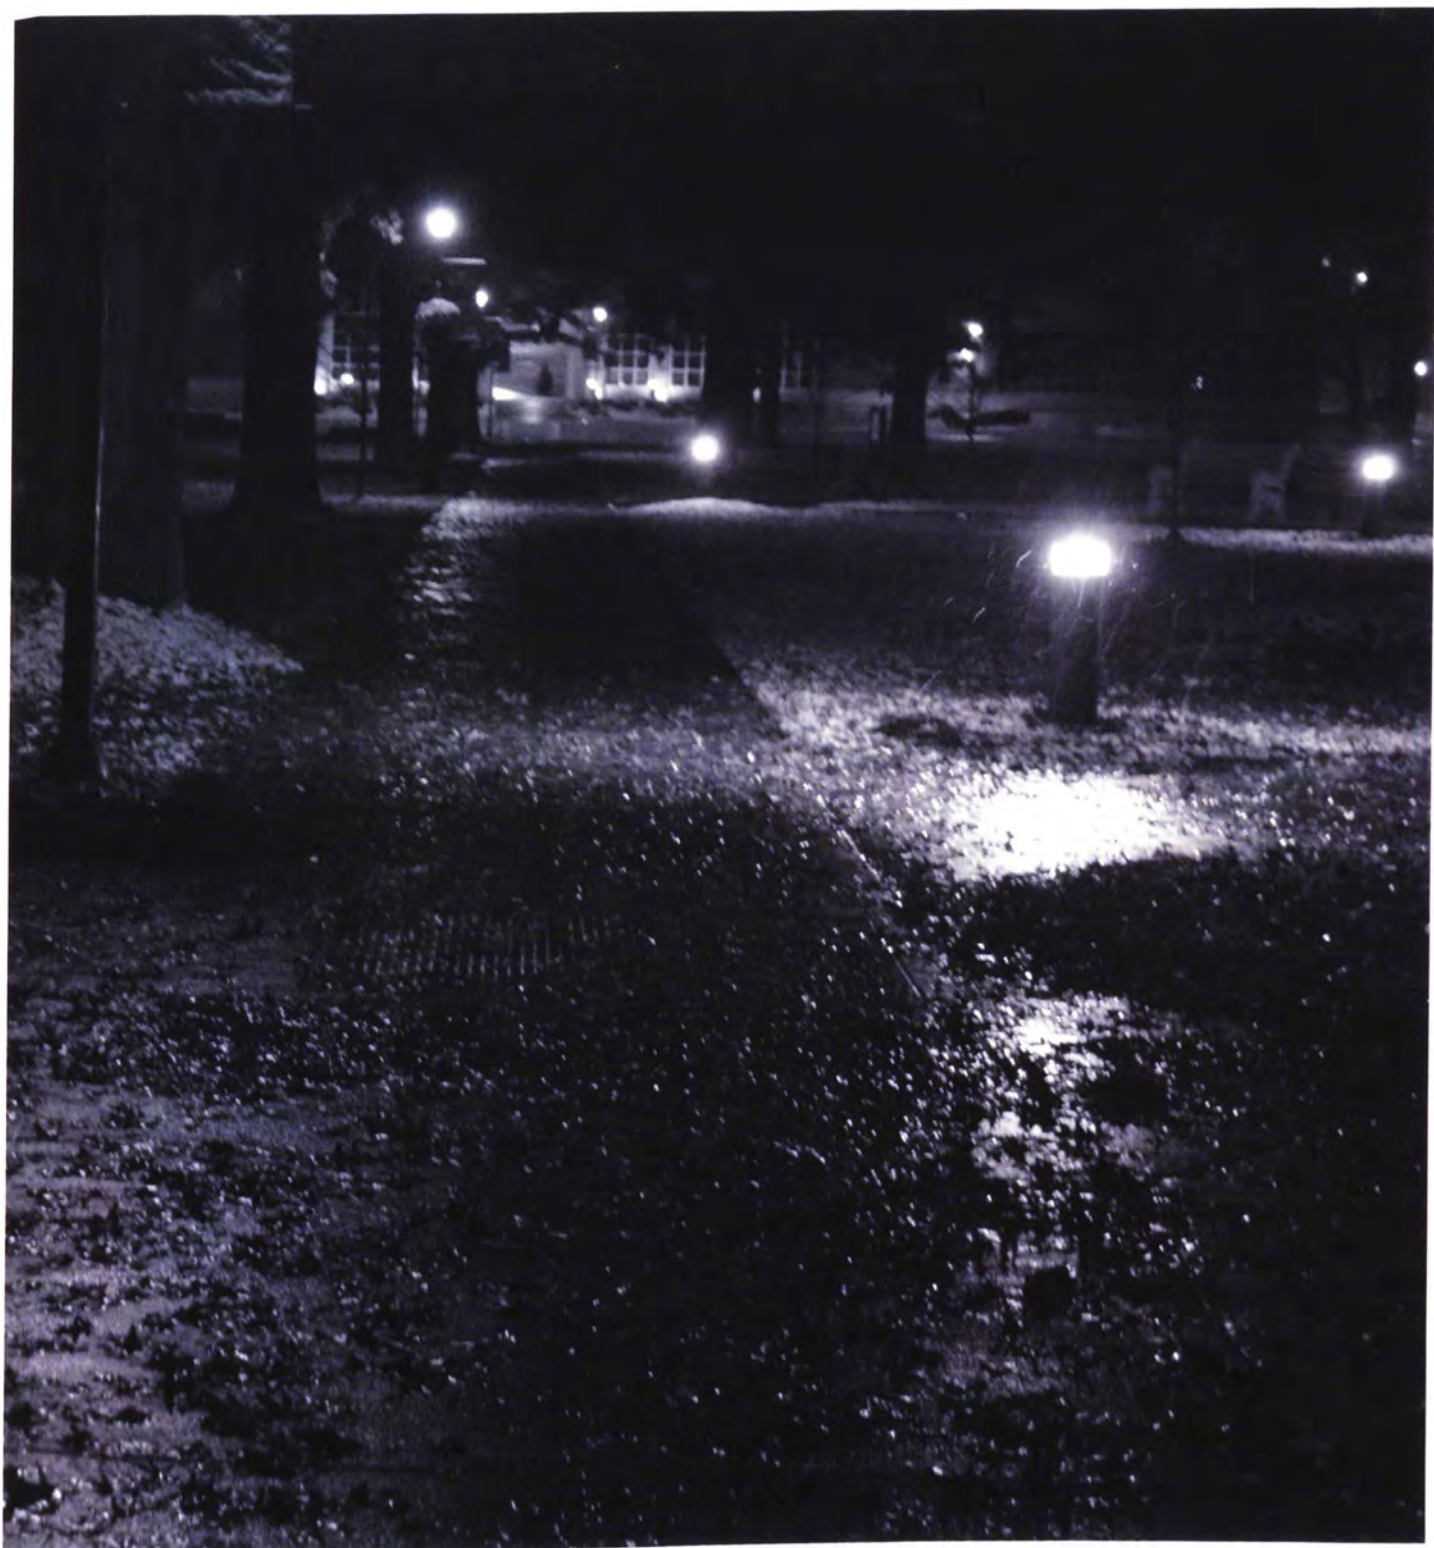

We couldn't meet in the chapel like usual this year. In the fall, warm (ish) weather meant music on the quad on Fridays (top left). In the spring, Dean Jordan and President Mullen switched off streaming on Fridays. Dean Jordan focused on faith and mental health, and Pres. Mullen on her series "Do you have any questions?" Unusually, morning and afternoon prayer both counted for chapel credit. Most Wednesdays, Dean Jordan and/or JL Miller interviewed a guest who would normally have come to campus. Bottom left, they interview Dr. Wesley Hill. Center left, Frances Mullen watches a recorded chapel talk; bottom right, students listen to President Mullen at opening convocation.

Fancher during the first snow (above); students take advantage of their last few weeks on campus before the planned shift to online class after Thanksgiving break (right); and, bottom, Gaelen Negus leads a procession into Chamberlain the morning after the first snow.

The townhouses, located on the south side of campus, are home to upperclassmen. The townhouses provide students with the opportunity to live in their own home with 6-8 other students. It builds community and leadership, and helps students prepare for the real world.

Randall Student Engagement Community

Randall Student Engagement Community is a new living option for students. Similar to the townhouses, students in groups of 6-8 live together, but with a common house goal, which can range from academics to arts to athletics. Then the students host different events on campus to engage with student body.

"Adjusting to the pandemic has required a lot of change to how the STAR has carried out its role on campus. Going virtual [at the end of last year] meant that our system of physical publication and distribution was no longer possible, and we didn't yet have a completely developed system for online publication yet. Part of [our] task...has been to build up that online infrastructure, including our website and social media, so that we have it ready when we need it, while at the same time [work] towards our normal practice of newspaper publication again."

- Josiah Wiedenheft

In the fall, the STAR was published entirely online for the first (and hopefully last) time in its 111 year history. Finally, in February, a small version of the paper was distributed via the STAR's newsstands in the Campus Center, and tables in various buildings. Above, the STAR's online format. Below corner, the STAR's first physical distribution since March of 2020. The spring's issues were printed at the Houghton Printing Press rather than off campus, and were not distributed consistently each Friday as normal. Covid complications touched all parts of life!

"teach me how to love"
Emmy Mulindwa

teach me how to love
this day
even as I hate this hour,
last hour, this minute,
each second

can you do that, God?

"A Desert"
Hope Barnes

It's easy to get lost
When you only see one path
The same one every day
Never differing, the same old rocks and dust
With not a soul in sight
Your mind forgets that there ever were other roads
Or that there might be better ones ahead

Boulder

What a year to make a yearbook! The Boulder hadn't been come out in several years, and there's been this little pandemic that made everything more complicated. We had to be ready to go remote at any time, and one staff member was off campus. We didn't exactly make everything up as we went along...but we sort of did.

Full acknowledgements come later in this book, but it seems appropriate here to acknowledge Elise Koelbl, who took photos for us in the fall, Amy Tetta, who gave us access to Houghton's photo collection, Adelaine Morgiewicz, who took several pictures that ended up in this book, and Caleb Fesmire, who took our staff photo.

Current Events

2020 was an eventful year, a major turning point on several fronts. And 2021 has been just as momentous so far.

Over the summer of 2020, the death of George Floyd at the hands of police sparked nationwide protests over racial injustice and police brutality.

The world has been struggling to stop the spread of Covid-19 for more than a year now. The creation of a vaccine has provided something of a light at the end of the tunnel, but the fight is far from over. Even where supply of the vaccine is available, the logistics of distribution have proved a challenge.

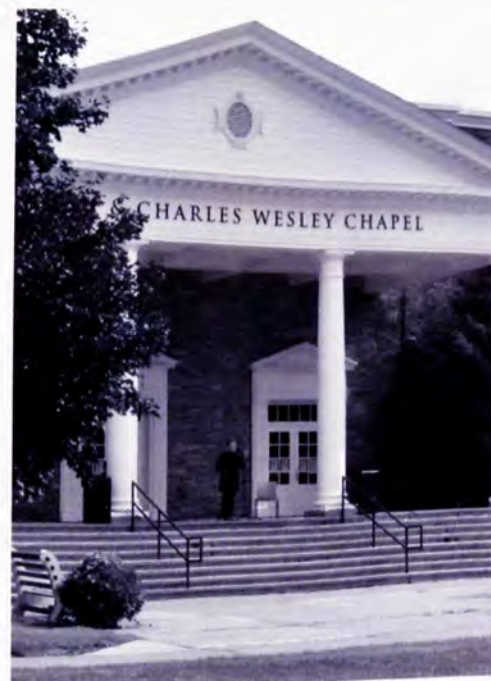

After a contentious election in November 2020, Joe Biden became the 46th President of the United States in January 2021. His Vice-President, Kamala Harris, is the first woman and the first person of color to serve as Vice-President. The election also left the Senate evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats, and Democrats with a narrow majority in the House.

Presidential Transition

Following President Mullen's announcement that she would be retiring in 2021, Houghton commenced a search for our next president. As of March no decision had yet been announced.

Search Committee Members: John Lee, Co-Chair, Carrie Whitcher, Co-Chair, Ross Atherton '21, Dan Bates '98, Julian Cook '13, Director, Tim Deckert '95, Sarah Derck, Scott Flanagan, Russ Gunsalus, Patrick Hager, Joey Jennings '86, Kevin Knowlton '79, Nuk Kongkaw '11, Gary Larder '62, J. From the Archives: Houghton and the Flu Pandemic of 1918-1920

The STAR does not report extensive spread of the flu on campus, but it still impacted the students. Of the four Houghton soldiers who died while serving in WWI—three students who left to serve without completing their degrees, and one alumnus—two never reached the front. Instead, Harry F. Meeker, Jr. and William Verne Russell died of the flu while still in training. Unlike covid, it's estimated that half of Spanish Flu's victims were between 20 and 40.

To battle with the epidemic of Spanish Influenza that has been sweeping over the Atlantic seaboard, the American Red Cross has called out Home Defense society nurses and assigned them to camps, hospitals, and building plants. Emergency orders have been sent to Red Cross divisions to secure the nurses needed to meet local problems. Several thousand contagion masks have also been released from a reserve supply at headquarters for distribution division directors.

Above, a report on the Spanish Flu from the STAR, November 1st, 1918. Below a Nov. 15 piece.

The Influenza has not yet spent its force for it is just now coming to our borders. There is however no real cause for great anxiety as we have at present only one case. Every precaution which medical knowledge suggests is being carried out to the letter. Each student is required to be in the open a certain length of time. No unnecessary congregating is allowed, neither are students to go to the stores, post office or other public houses where the epidemic might be brought in by travelers. With these facts in mind parents should feel no alarming solicitude but rather feel that students are safer here than at home.

Return to Campus

After two weeks of isolation, life returned to covid-normal. Clockwise: Becca Apgar and Annabel Cousins listen to President Mullen's Christmas story at CAB's Coffeehouse Feb. 25th; Ross Atherton waits for test results in Nielsen the first week back in the spring; CAB Christmas; hanging out in the CC; Ansley Green and Anna Nesemeir in Chamberlain.

Emmanuel Scholars

Emmanuel Scholars is a year-long academic program run by J.L. Miller and Dean Jordan that encourages spiritual growth and provides an atmosphere to ask deep questions and form relationships with like-minded students.

"Emmanuel Scholars is always a highlight in my week! J.L. and Dean Jordan never fail to introduce us to new perspectives and challenge us with difficult questions, all while thoroughly entertaining us!"

- Bryce Preston

"Emmanuel Scholars is a program to stretch and develop your way of thinking about your vocation and how it relates to your relationship with God. Through this program, I discovered more of my identity and calling, what issues are important for me to fight for, and my place in the world."

-Arianna Zampella

East Meets West

East Meets West was the third of Houghton's first year honors programs. Its humanities curriculum focused on the interaction of Western and non-Western cultures in the Balkans. The 2019-2020 cohort is the last group to do the program. EMW includes a May term trip to the Balkans that was unable to run in 2020 due to the pandemic, though the trip was rescheduled for May 2021 with the hope that international travel would be possible at that time.

Science Honors

Science Honors provides first-year students with hands-on opportunities to learn about biodiversity and science communication. These two cohorts worked to design autonomous rovers to collect data about different species in the Arizona deserts. They learned how to code, design wires, and test their rovers.

19-20:

Dedication of the Katherine W. Lindley Center for Law and Constitutional Studies

On Feb. 1st, the college held a virtual dedication of this new center, with an audience of about 100 people, made up of Houghton employees and family, alumni, and friends. Prof. Meilaender opened the ceremony, Prof. Esh showed off the room, and they were followed by several speakers.

"Kay epitomizes what has motivated so many of us to give back to Houghton...Dr. Lindley cared for the institution as a whole as much as she cared for her department, and particularly this notion and this particular calling to prepare people for pre-law." - Dr. Shirley Mullen, College President

"You are her legacy...Kay Lindley believed in you, each of you on this call, in different ways. She gave part of herself to you, through her sustained, rigorous attention directed toward you, and through her belief that you were capable of thinking through the issue at hand, whatever it was, and believing it fully and humanely, so that God's truth could reign in your hearts and in the world." - Dean Jordan, speaking to alumni

"She would invite you to her office, warmly, kindly. for a visit, and she'd say something with that twinkle in her eye, which made you realize that she did not need your reverence or your worship in the least; what she really wanted was [for] you to give your all in the classroom and to use your mind." - Neil MacBride, Class of 1987

The Houghton community celebrated social rights activist, pastor and speaker Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. during the week of February 15th-19th. Left, President Mullen addresses students from the chapel steps. Afterward, the students participated in a 1,964 step walk around campus, commemorating the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The rest of week featured events surrounding black heritage, civil rights, and Dr. King's work and legacy.

MLK WEEK

February 15-19

Since we couldn't be together on MLK Day in January, join us for a week of encountering Dr. King's vision and celebrating his legacy!

Monday

11:00 AM - Civil Rights Commemoration
We will gather in front of the chapel to hear a historical perspective on the Civil Rights Movement and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 from President Mullen.

7:00 PM - Talk Back with Rev. Julian Cook
After hearing Rev. Cook in chapel, he will join us for a Talk Back on his sermon.

 Follow @hcmosaic on Instagram for updates and for more information!

Wednesday

11:20 AM - Chapel - "Bridges and Boats"
A special chapel message from Dean Jordan reflecting on Dr. King and Ash Wednesday.

7:00 PM - "Letter from a Birmingham Jail"
A presentation on Dr. King's famous letter by Dr. Anna Pettway

Thursday

7:00 PM - Black Joy - CAB Coffeehouse and SGA Trivia Night
A collaborative event between SGA and CAB, come for games, trivia, prizes, and entertainment centered around the theme of Black Joy!

Friday

Black Heritage Club Movie Night
Join BHC for a showing of Beyonce's "Homecoming" and discussion on the artistic achievements of Black females with a panel of Black female artists.

PRIZES & GIVEAWAYS at every event, featuring products from Black-owned businesses.

Clockwise from top right: distributing gifts in the Highlander Shop on Valentine's Day; Anna Judd and Blythe Gilbert at CAB's Axe Throwing event; visitors to campus get the creek stone story; David Stevick in the library; walking to class

SENIORS

"We think we have chosen our peers. In reality a few years' difference in the dates of our births, a few more miles between certain houses, the choice of one university instead of another...the accident of a topic being raised or not raised at a first meeting--any of these chances might have kept us apart. But, for a Christian, there are, strictly speaking no chances. A secret master of ceremonies has been at work. Christ, who said to the disciples, "Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you," can truly say to every group of Christian friends, "Ye have not chosen one another but I have chosen you for one another." The friendship is not a reward for our discriminating and good taste in finding one another out. It is the instrument by which God reveals to each of us the beauties of others." —C.S. Lewis

Class of 2021,

May the peace of the Lord Christ go with you,
wherever He may send you.

May He guide you through the wilderness, protect you through the storm.

May He bring you home rejoicing
at the wonders He has shown you.

May He bring you home rejoicing
once again into our doors

Acknowledgements

All yearbooks have many more people behind them than the staff listed in the front of the book. But a yearbook that has recently been resurrected—and during a pandemic, no less—perhaps owes even more to the people and the environment that allowed it to happen. The 2020-21 Boulder staff would like to thank everyone who answered email after email asking for pictures and lists of names. We'd like to thank all the professors who allowed us to come in and photograph their classes, and the students who didn't say no when one of us walked up and said, "Can I take your picture for the yearbook?" Thank you to everyone who showed up at our Picture Day, and the seniors who turned in their pictures, hometowns, and quotes. The yearbook is better because of your contribution.

We'd like to thank every single student, staff and faculty member who said, "Thank you so much for bringing back the yearbook!" And we'd like to thank every student who filled out the yearbook information survey, and everyone who bought a copy of the book.

We'd like to thank Marc Smithers, who said "yes" when I asked if it was a good idea to bring back the Boulder in the midst of covid complications. We'd like to thank AC Taylor, who answered dozens of our emails each semester. We'd like to thank Dr. Doug Gaerte, who let us have a space in the Comm Suite for a temporary office. We'd like to thank Phyllis Gaerte, who supported us from the beginning, and gave us advice about what makes a good yearbook (captions and an index...I hope we didn't leave anything out!) And we'd like to thank Professor Madison Murphy, our fantastic faculty advisor, who made time for us in her crazy schedule, gave us advice about software and graphic design, and told us to "forget about other people's expectations" and to make the yearbook what we wanted it to be.

On a more personal note, I'd like to thank Michael Green, editor of the '17 Boulder, who gave me concrete advice and an understanding ear to vent to. I owe a huge debt of gratitude to all my dear friends, particularly my three regular "close contacts" (you know who you are), who put up with my year of "yearbook on the brain"—my frustration when things didn't go the way I wanted, and my constant panic about whether the book was going to get finished. I also owe a huge debt of gratitude to my family, both immediate and extended. You instilled in me a love of history and a passion for its preservation. And finally, this yearbook wouldn't exist at all if not for Laura Habecker, former college archivist, who led me to a love of Houghton's history in particular, and was always there cheering us on behind the scenes. My love to all of you.

From the yearbook staff, to the entire Houghton College community, past and present—the faculty and staff, the students, the alumni, residents of the Houghton area, to our families and friends—thank you.

Phoebe, Mary, Frances, Vanessa, Anna, and Samantha

P.S. To the right, we attempt (minus Samantha) a reenactment of the 1924 Boulder staff photo. It didn't quite work. We have less staff, the boulder isn't raised off the ground as much as it used to be, and the sun was in our eyes. This photo (and the staff photo on page 55) is courtesy of Caleb Fesmire. Thanks again, my friend.
