

Carol Book Reigns In Homing Festivities

BY C. JUNE PFAUTZ

The crown of Houghton's Homecoming Queen will be placed on Miss Carol Book of Frederick, Maryland. Her coronation at half-time of the Purple-Gold football game, Saturday, October 10, will mark the climax of Homecoming festivities.

Miss Book, a talented brunette of 5'2", is a sociology major with minors in psychology and music. She plans to enter adoption case work after graduation.

The Queen has been active in the college touring choir and other music organizations and is editor of this year's Info. When asked to comment on her honor, Miss Book quoted Philippians 2:3: "Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves."

Two girls chosen from each class will attend the Queen's Court. Senior attendant Martha Brauch and Jocelyn Hull, a freshman, will be absent from the gold cheering team to be in the Court with their classmates Gail Neal, a senior student teacher, and Addy Chan, a freshman from Hong Kong.

Linda Hay and Bonnie Ellison, both very active in athletics, represent the Sophomore Class, while two juniors complete the Court: Janice Marolf, assistant Boulder editor, and Joyce Wilson, a member of the touring choir.

Horns and tons of paper flowers and cheers comprise the biggest part of the Homecoming parade. This year's theme of "Political Heritage" will dress the floats as they wind up the college hill, around the triangle traditionally packed with alumni, and on up to the athletic field. There Verlee Dunham, Public Relations Director from Student Senate, will award the float prizes. Bands from Fillmore and Olean will march in the parade and during half-time at the game.

One of the players from the Purple-Gold clash will have to make a quick change. Senate President James Tysinger will exchange his football uniform for something a little more formal in order to present Miss Carol Book at half-time, after which Mr. Wesley Nussey, Alumni Association president, will crown her Homecoming Queen.

Platform Faces Big Floor Fight

Closing the weekend's festivities along the "Platforms for Progress" theme, the annual Alumni Banquet and Convention will be held in the Houghton Academy's "Convention Hall" this Saturday evening. Amidst an atmosphere of posters, banners, streamers, and flags, the delegates will enjoy a ham dinner, complete with strawberry shortcake.

Entertainment for the evening will be based upon the efforts of the Houghton College platform committee to establish policy for the next four years, by applying basic national issues such as extremism, civil rights, and foreign policy to the Houghton scene. In spite of lobbying and "spontaneous" demonstrations, this convention will attempt promotion of understanding and fairness for worthy causes, e.g. the underprivileged music major, or the very urgent need for bowling alleys. When the confusion finally subsides, Dr. Paine will speak on the aspirations of Houghton College for the future, laying more plans for progress and claiming by faith more blessing.

Two Awarded Degrees As Founders Convocate

Honorary degrees increased the number of Houghton alumni by two today.

Dr. Melvin E. Dieter, president of Eastern Pilgrim College in Allentown, Pennsylvania, addressed the Founders' Day Convocation. Dr. Dieter, who is a graduate of Muhlenberg College, received graduate degrees from Lehigh University, Eastern Pilgrim College and Temple University. He also attended Graduate Navy Language School and the University of Colorado. He was ordained by the Pilgrim Holiness Church in 1951.

Dr. Melvin E. Dieter
Becomes Alumnus

Joining the teaching staff of Eastern Pilgrim College in 1946, Dr. Dieter became Acting President in 1960 and President in 1961. Dr.

Stephen Paine presented Dr. Dieter with the honorary degree.

Miss Mabel James, chairman of the New York State Conservation Forum and a backer of the Moss Lake project, received the second degree. Miss James is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and has taught and worked for many years as a naturalist. Much of her time is devoted to conservation of threatened natural resources.

She is an honorary member of the Buffalo Audubon Society, the Federation of Homemakers and The American Nature Study Society. In 1942 Miss James received the bronze medal of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State "for excellent work in conservation and wild flower preservation."

The college choir, directed by Professor Robert Shewan, sang two numbers, "Say Ye To The Righteous" and "My Shepherd Will Supply My Need."

Buffalo Philharmonic Returns, This Time With Foss On Podium

BY HAROLD J. BAXTER

The Artist Series Concerts for 1964-65 will begin tonight at 8:00 p.m. with a performance by the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra under the musical direction of Lukas Foss.

The orchestra will be playing a program chosen mostly from the Classical era. It consists of a number by Beethoven called Marches for Winds; Franz Schubert's Symphony No. 4 in C Minor, subtitled "Tragic"; the Violin Concerto in E-Flat by Mozart and, moving into the late Romantic era, El Amor Brujo by Manuel de Falla.

Houghtonians last heard the Buffalo Philharmonic two years ago in November, when Josef Krips led the group in a program of Romantic music for an Artist Series concert. Since then, Mr. Krips has left Buffalo to take the helm of the San Francisco Symphony. This year, Mr. Krips is taking over occasionally for Leonard Bernstein as conductor of the New York Philharmonic, while

Mr. Bernstein is on sabbatical leave.

For the vacancy left by Krips, Buffalo musicians called upon young triple-threat musician Lukas Foss. Distinguished as a pianist (he had been official pianist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra for five years), Foss has also been achieving notoriety as an avant-garde composer. Some of his more famous works are Time Cycle, Song of Songs and the quasi-jazz-classical Studies in Improvisation.

Foss has been acclaimed for his "fresh, enthusiastic" approach to conducting. Though perhaps not as musically mature as his immediate predecessors (Krips and William Steinberg), Foss is rapidly proving his ability as chef d'orchestre, winning accolades from such respected authorities as Arthur Rubenstein and Howard Taubman, Music Critic of the New York Times.

Finney, F.A.G.O., In Recital Receives Reviewers' Raves

BY MARY SIGMON, JAN BURGESS

Dr. Charles Finney, F.A.G.O., presented his faculty recital in Wesley Chapel Friday, October 2, at 8:00 P.M.

While lighter in style, the performance was wonderfully artistic, showing the audience the varied possibilities of the instrument and the musical depth of the performer.

Special preparation of the acoustical material in the chapel allowed each person present to receive full benefit from Dr. Finney's program on the Holtcamp.

Professor Robert Morrow assisted Dr. Finney in Henry Purcell's "Voluntary in C Major" with a climactic duet of trumpet and organ. Professors Donald Doig, tenor, and John Andrews, violinist, combined their talents with the organist in a recitative and air from "Cantata 61" by J.S. Bach. The audience warmly received the performance of the three artists.

Those present were privileged to hear the first performance of Dr. Finney's arrangement of "Rejoice, Ye Pure In Heart." "Symphonie V" by Charles Widor was a most impressive work. The difficult "Toccata" was especially beautiful and portrayed to the audience a real mastery of the instrument.

In concluding the program, Dr. Finney performed a "Hymnprovisation" on tunes suggested by the Houghton College Administrative Committee. The thoughtful, worshipful style in which the tunes were performed, especially "My Jesus As Thou Wilt," "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" and the closing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," provided a most beautifully fitting climax to a very enjoyable musical experience.

Library Dedicated At Five Tomorrow

An important event of Homecoming Weekend is the dedication of the Willard J. Houghton Memorial Library on Saturday. From 3:00 until 5:00 an open house and tea will be held in the new library.

The dedication will commence at 5:00 with an invocation and singing of the hymn, "God of Our Fathers." Presiding as Master of Ceremonies will be Dr. Stephen Paine. Dr. Willard Smith, college business manager, will present a history of the library project, and Mr. Ellsworth Decker, president of the Houghton Construction Company and supervisor of the library construction, will speak. The trumpet trio will play before Dr. Claude Ries leads in a dedicatory litany.

Dr. Carrier, head librarian, will conduct the ribbon-cutting ceremony. Closing the program will be a dedicatory prayer and benediction by Dr. Ernest Crocker, member of the Board of Trustees from the Michigan conference.

Purple Squad "Drives For Five" As Gold Looks For Dry Rebound

In tomorrow's Homecoming game it will be "drive for five" for the Purple Pharaohs. In the pouring rain a week ago, last year's undefeated Purple picked up a 33-6 decision over the Gold Gladiators at Alumni Field.

In the first half it was all Purple, both offense and defense. The biggest ground gainer in the Purple backfield was sophomore Keith Greer, who last year played left wing for the Purple soccer team. Greer broke loose for two touchdowns, one of them a forty-seven yard run on a crossback play.

Playing his first game as quarterback, soph Pete Friedrich earned one TD and ran for one extra point, while passing for two more points. Senior Dave Beach, the only upperclassman in the Purple backfield, accounted for one touchdown and two extra points. Intercepting a Tysinger pass, Jerry Figley went all the way for Purple's only score in the second half.

The unsung heroes of the Purple defense, Barry Wolfe, Lou Worrad, Dick Pope, Doug Thompson and Dan Carradice, played a great game considering the playing conditions. The outstanding Purple defenseman was Wolfe, who all night long made life miserable for the Gold backfield.

The wet weather kept Gold's passing ace, Bud Tysinger, on the ground, and the Gold game just couldn't get rolling in the first half. The biggest Gold gains came from Doug Fraser, who did some damage to the Purple defense through the middle of the line.

Gold's only score came in the second half when, after rushing Fraser through the line three times, Tysinger faked to Fraser and tossed one to Skip Leinster who was only about two steps out of the end zone. The try for the extra point failed. Something has to be said for the Gold defense, which showed definite strength in the second half.

The Homecoming game could be an entirely different story. In the passing vein the edge goes to Gold's Tysinger, while on the ground the edge goes to the small but fast Purple backfield. In the kicking department Beach will do the honors for Purple while Gold will go with Fraser.

The Homecoming game can go either way. A key injury on either team could throw the scales in the opposite direction.

Purple's Baker Heads Ball In 4-2 Win
A Moment In Continued Pressure

There They Go Again - - Houseleague '64 Begins

BY GARY OVERHISER

With initiation and testing over, there remained only one catastrophe for our freshmen to experience - HOUSELEAGUE! Personnel is abundant for football this year, and up to par - varied.

Freshmen fellows have shown unusual enthusiasm by submitting two battle teams. From Shenawanna Dorm came Carradice's Boys meeting Bradley's Club. Captain Jerry Bradley led his force to a 29-7 victory behind the quarterbacking of Ron Hoffman, whose quick passes to Dick Close were too accurate for the opposition's defenses. Jerry Carradice demonstrated good control of his men and shows promise of things to come.

On Thursday from the other side of the campus came the men of Hutton House. With a hefty line and experienced backfield, such Houghton henchmen as Moose Glickert, Flying Bob Owens and Killer Kirkwood, all piloted by Shotgun Moore, went down to defeat in a thriller with the Academy, 34-6. Able Jim Lusk kept the Hutton men off balance with his pinpoint passes to Jack Luckey. Fine coaching here was evident.

After this game, the Hutton House coaching staff ordered a weekend of intensive drills, which paid off in a 25-7 victory over the Bradley Club on Monday. Glickert's pass receptions along with fine running by Dave Moore provided the scoring punch while Bob Owens held the defense together.

Gladiators Get Experience While Pharaohs Chalk Win

BY ERNIE CLAPPER

The determined, experienced Purple offensive line told the story Saturday as they began the soccer series on its predicted course. Perfect weather, a good field, and one hundred thirty eight spectators witnessed the 4-2 hard-fought scrap.

However, when Mark Amstutz pumped through the first of his three goals with 7:53 elapsed in the first period, the bell tolled as the continual pressure applied by the front five of Mouw, Amstutz, Parks, Walker, and Baker began to tell on the fullbacks and goalkeeper of the Gladiators.

The Purple halfbacks continually were in the right position as the Gold offense saw drive after drive stalled by a halfback foot. Added to the duo of Pete Schreck and Roy Stahlman came freshman Fred Danner, who played the corner slot as if he were a two-footed bandit. Schreck added his foot to the scoring column after 3:13 of the second period.

Too much praise cannot be given to a Gold squad which numbered among its members several who saw their first soccer competition action Saturday. Following Panda Kamara's goal in the second period, the score remained at 2-1, awaiting the fourth period heroics of Amstutz. This 2-1 halftime and third period score, together with the 4-2 final, provide evidence enough of Gold's defiance of the powerful Purple.

The offensive line, lead by Rick Gibson, who scored the last goal of the game, Jim Titus and Kamara, showed well when they got the ball. The play of Owen Ndungu at halfback and Gary King at the goal mouth added much to the Gladiator efforts.

The entire series lies in the fact that Gold can only obtain needed experience so fast; however, the material for the upset is present. The stage is set, and so is Purple.

Forfeits Determining Outcome; Non-playing Sophs Lead 2-0

Forfeited games seem to be the main factor so far in determining this year's championship team in the class field hockey competition. The Sophomores are, at the present, holding down first place by virtue of successive wins-by-forfeit, one over the Juniors and one over the Seniors.

Though they haven't actually played a game yet, the sophs do feel that they have a good team and hold high hopes for the coming season.

Tied for second place are the Juniors and the Academy both with 1-1 marks. The Juniors picked up a 2-0 decision over the Academy in the only game played to date, but forfeited a game to the Sophs. A good team effort was evident in the victory, with the winning goals scored by Ginny Miles and Ruth Brubaker. The Academy got their win when the Frosh failed to turn up enough players.

The Freshmen and Seniors are both 0-1 so far, having lost their games by forfeit. But with the student teachers returning to bolster the Senior squad, and with more interest and organization developing among the freshmen, both teams could well pick up several victories before the season is over.
