The Christian student must be acquainted with a wide span of literature, including much of the worthy and some of the unworthy.

The Christian student recognizes that an enemy has sown tares in the wheat of God's truth.

Inclusion of this book in the library does not imply endorsement by Houghton College. The student must prove all things, holding fast the good; the teacher must rightly divide and interpret all in accordance with Holy Scripture.

To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace. Luke 1:79.

LUCKEY MEMORIAL

21 Gun Salute

to Miss Bessie Fancher

To our Miss Bessie Fancher, we dedicate the twenty-fourth volume of the Boulder . . . "our" Miss Fancher because of the way in which you have given yourself unreservedly to the students for nearly three decades. Looking for understanding, we turn to you; looking for encouragement, we find in you an unfailing friend.

In the classroom we are greeted by that warming smile and never leave without an inspiration and a new challenge to tackle life and conquer its problems as you have done.

Your every action, Miss Fancher, expresses your "unselfish interest in others" . . . your faithfulness in the Sunday School as Sunday after Sunday we have been blessed by those heart-to-heart talks . . . your intense interest in missions not only abroad but in needy sections of western New York.

We see your life so permeated with Christ's love that you shine as one of Houghton's brightest lighthouses.

This past summer I had the privilege of exploring an old lighthouse still in operation. Several analogies impressed themselves upon my mind.

Yes, Houghton College also is founded on the solid rock—Christ Jesus! The shimmering white tower of the old lighthouse stands out clearly on the shoreline and is visible from great distances. Likewise, Houghton College has been kept separate from contamination by modernism which is so rampant today, so that its great duty of preparing Christian young people for service might continue unhampered. What a vision!

Ships on the lake determine which lighthouse this one is by timing the period between flashes. Our lives are constantly being watched by others. Would they see Christ in your life? In those few moments that you meet during the day, can your friends tell whom you serve?

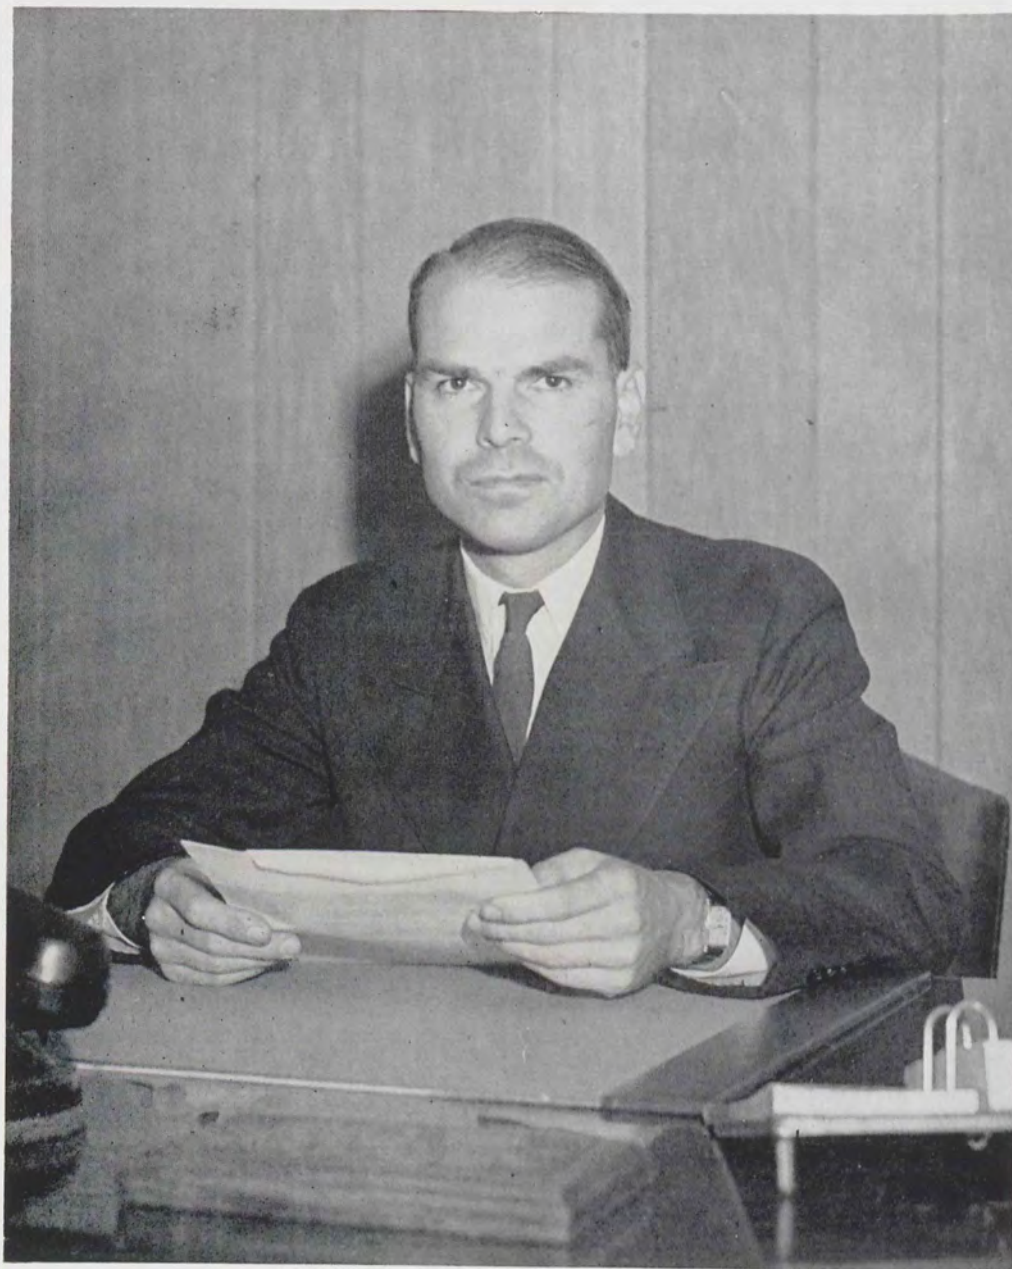

This lighthouse served as identification of the place where the ships changed their course and headed straight for their destined port. Is your testimony so dynamic ... convincing ... convicting that it will cause unsaved friends whom you come in contact with to turn to Christ? It should.

A large compound hemispherical lens intensifies the light source almost a half million times so that its rays penetrate the darkness for twenty miles. God wants to use our lives as channels of light to reach people lost in sin. The grinding and polishing process taking place here in college is necessary so that the intensity of our lives will increase. Complete dedication of our lives is essential for a flawless lens. With Him as our light source, we ought to be busy rescuing shipwrecked souls.

In these days of turmoil when shipwrecked lives are so evidently abundant, there is a desperate call for more consecrated light channels. Houghton College is doing its share. Let us introduce others to our light source. Have you given your entire being to Him?

Stephen W. Paine, Ph.D. President of College

Skipper

Dr. Paine, even with his extensive executive work, has time for hearty hellos and campus chats. In fact, it is sometimes hard to realize he is the same dignified president of Houghton College who stands before us every Tuesday morning in chapel, exhorting to more Christ-like living in that firm yet kindly, sincere way of Doc's that gives us a concept of his true greatness.

Pierce E. Woolsey,
Ph.D., Dean of College

Executive Officer

As dean of the college for the past two years, Dr. Woolsey has maintained through these years that quiet, gentle spirit of understanding that so characterizes him. Dr. Woolsey's French students and all who know him appreciate his patience and good humor.

Personnel Officers

The innovation of moving the dean of women's position from Gaoyadeo Hall to the office in the Luckey building with the installation of a head resident in Gaoyadeo has proved most satisfactory. Miss Beck is now able to specialize in personnel work devoting more time to individual students.

Elizabeth Beck,
A. B., Dean of Women

With unsurpassed interest and confidence in individuals, Professor Wright has done for the students an unacknowledged amount of good. To alleviate somewhat his task increased by the influx of students, Dr. Luckey has become the assistant dean of men, taking over the room placement of college men.

Flag Officer's Staff

What to do with all the new students was the perplexing question before the administration this summer. Using all possibilities, however, they kept finding room for one more. Homes have been opened to students in Houghton and surrounding villages . . . even in Hume five miles distant. New houses are going up over the campus and town. Throughout all this extensive planning God's guidance has been evident.

The housing problem was accompanied by the need for larger water pipes and a new reservoir. Again, it was God's hand that made possible the laying of the pipes and the completion of the reservoir by giving us a long, warm fall.

Not only in these big projects has the administration shown itself highly capable, but also in the behind-the-scenes, routine activities.

Ship's Staff

With the influx of students, the staff has also met the problem efficiently. Remodeling the kitchen and making new arrangements for feeding the increased number have been no simple task; however, with extraordinary effort, accommodations have been provided for a maximum number of students.

Almost all of us, at one time or the other, appreciate the director and staff of the infirmary in their efforts to keep us at a physical equilibrium. During several busy days at the "infirm," the hospital staff co-operated with the County Tuberculosis Association of Belmont in taking X-rays of the student body and town residents.

It is hard to show our gratitude for the daily work done in the various offices which perhaps is taken for granted. Nevertheless, its importance in Houghton's maintenance and progress is realized and appreciated.

To the staff members we would say a hearty thank you.

The Lightkeeper's Prayer

Like a lighthouse that sends out its light in the night,
Lord, help me to shine for Thee,
That sailors sailing on life's rugged sea
May enter the homeland and abide with Thee.

If the light fails to shine in the lighthouse at night,
Some sailors may be lost;
Keep your lamp filled with oil; keep your light burning bright,
And you will guide others thro' this world's dark night.

Lord, help me to be a lighthouse for Thee,
And guide weary sailors across life's rough sea;
Lord, help me to guide lost sailors to Thee,
Into the Safe Harbor for Eternity.

This course is designed to meet the need of students who cannot afford to take a complete four year college course but feel they can spend two years in college. Students taking this course are required to present, on entrance, sixteen units of high school work which need not be in specific subjects. However, if he elects to go on and take a full college course after completing the shorter course, he must meet the regular college requirements. The course is Bible-centered and is offered as preparation for work in the field of Christian service either as pastor or on the mission field. The group is not large. This year we have three who are graduating from this course.

The increase of the college enrollment has affected the prep school considerably, necessitating a severe cut in the number of admissions. Several new teachers have been added to the staff including Mr. Moon, principal; Mr. Stone, English teacher; and Miss Barker, teacher of Social Studies.

There being no room in the college chapel now for the preps, they are making the best of the crowded condition in their study hall for the morning chapel, with students from the high school and college conducting the chapels. Always on Tuesday nights one can hear them singing enthusiastically in the high school prayer meeting. One of their definite prayer concerns was the illness of Muriel Lennox. To her, who bore her sickness to her death with a sweet Christian spirit, we sound a salute in memoriam.

DR. C. I. ARMSTRONG
Senior Chaplain

On Sunday mornings we walked into our beautiful church for Sunday School or later (if we had our classes in the overflow department on the campus) for worship service to take a deep breath spiritually and to drink of God and His word.

Although we have come from a variety of backgrounds we have been free to worship together in Spirit and in truth.

The worshipful voice of the organ, the richness of the 119th Psalm as we read it responsively, the anthems of praise from the choir, the very helpful messages from the life of Abraham by our faithful pastor, Dr. Armstrong, and especially the times of heart-searching and salvation, and of the infilling and refreshing by the Holy Spirit—these have become an essential part of our lives.

Extension Workers

"Could your quartet possibly sing in Belmont Sunday?" It sounds like Smeenge filling engagements again . . . and it is.

Under the Torchbearers the extension groups have worked in Youth for Christ rallies, evangelistic campaigns, union services, and Youth Week meetings. Their pioneer Sunday School work has given many students the opportunity of working among young people and challenging real effort. Every week a group has visited the Fillmore Hospital, often coming back with glowing reports of God's leading and working power.

The student pastors, Gospel Messengers, and other independent groups represent Houghton's missionary spirit. Many times the germination of the Gospel seed has been slow in communities but persistence and faith have won victories.

"To serve the present age"

With this motto and under the able leadership of Marcus Anderson, the Torchbearers group has experienced a gracious year. But Mark would insist, and none would hesitate to agree, that the Holy Spirit has been the true leader of Torchbearers' activities.

The regular meetings every other Sunday afternoon have been occasions of deep soul-refreshing and increased vision. The ministry of Dr. Ries, Professor Wright, Miss Fancher, and others was very profitable as was Ronny and Edna Ripley's spirit-filled singing.

This organization exists to stimulate personal soul-winning on the campus and to arrange for hospital-visiting and extension groups.

W. Y. P. S.

Organized to plan the regular Sunday night young people's program, the W. Y. P. S. functions extend into numerous fields. Stressing world-wide missionary problems, the Y. M. W. B. has conducted student prayer meetings once a month. In addition to these the regular student prayer meetings have emphasized the need for more time in prayer, definite prayer.

The missionary pledges have reached a new high, due not only to the increased enrollment but also to interest felt in fields reopened. As this goes to press, a total of $2261.00 has been submitted to the treasurer.

The reports of the two delegates elected to attend the Student Missionary Conference at Toronto was most challenging, creating a vital interest in this inter-varsity movement.

Second row: V. Swauger, Y. M. W. B. President; L. Boughter, Morning Watch Secretary; J. Harris, W. Y. P. S. President.
 First row: E. Smeenge, Secretary-Treasurer; R. Cowles, Vice-President; B. Jones, Devotional Chairman; E. Sanville, Y. M. W. B. Treasurer.

The Student Ministerial Association

The Student Ministerial, open to all those going into the Lord's work, welcomes all problems relative to pastoral and pioneer work. Faculty and outside speakers alike have added much to their meetings. Sessions were devoted to the study of the family life and duties of pastors and controversial issues of the day. Towards the end of each meeting a time was set aside for questions concerning a definite problem announced previously. It is their purpose to aid in the preparation of those going forth to serve.

Foreign Missions Fellowship

Copp, Secretary; M. Luft, Vice-President; Sanyille, President; M. Sprowl, Publicity Chairman; Hume, Program Chairman; McCallum, Pianist.
Absent: G. Barnett, Treasurer.

The meetings of the Foreign Missions Fellowship present the needs of various fields through stimulating prayer and service. Approximately forty-five Houghton students have felt a definite call for missionary work. Twelve fields are represented by these who are going forth in evangelism, teaching, medical work and translation.

Their monthly meetings have been encouraging, bringing missionary speakers, including Al Kowles from China and Mr. Tuller from Nigeria, inspiring us to service. Weekly prayer meetings have been held for these and other individual missionaries.

For Christ and the World

Class Chaplains

Harr, junior; DeBrine, senior; M. Anderson and Phipps, sophomores; M. Brown, freshmen.

The class chaplains were given the responsibility of the "assembling of ourselves together." It was the only regular weekly function of any class. The entire student body met on Tuesday evenings, the class meetings on Thursday. There were "four anchors cast out." Frosh—Christ Pre-eminent. Sophs—Anchored in Jesus. Juniors—In His Might. Seniors—Lighthouses for Jesus.

Problems were discussed. Praise was heard. Prayers were offered. Many a course was chartered after "the Good Word" of fellowship and common purpose.

A Capella Choir

Professor Donald Butterworth

With new maroon robes, a new program including "The City" by Baumgartner, "De profundis" by von Gluck, "Alleluia" by Thompson, the choir began its concert season earlier this year with its first concert in November.

Although we of the college do not have the opportunity to enjoy these outside concerts, the choir has been especially appreciated in its contributions to the revival services, adding depth and spirit to the meetings.

All of the members looked forward to the Spring Concert tour when Mr. Eyler, as manager, directed them southward to such notable places as Church of the Open Door in Philadelphia, King's College, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Wilmington.

The choir is anticipating radio work this spring and summer for which a chosen number from the choir has been selected to record for broadcasts.

For Christ the choir sings on.

Orchestra

On Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:45 one can usually find the source of a combination of questionable sounds in the music auditorium. There behind an array of stands, a group of intent musicians are playing Haydn's "Surprise Symphony," Strauss' "Wiener Blut," Bizet's "L'Arlesienne," hypnotized under the spell of Professor Cronk's baton as he sits perched on his high stool.

In a marvelous way, Prof has brought melody, music sublime, out of the chaos as the orchestra rendered its annual concert. Before the concert in March, the orchestra gave one outside concert and several more later in the spring.

The orchestra's big job in the fall was accompanying the oratorio in their presentation of the "Messiah."

Professor Alton Cronk

Concertmeister: Prof. J. M. Andrews; Violins: Talbot, E. Anderson, MacNeil, J. Harris, Jordan, Krause, Stafford, M. Lawrence; Viola: Diller, Barisuk; Cello: Titus, Fortran; Bass Viol: Pierce; Flutes: C. Johnson, E. Thompson; Clarinets: Dukeshire, Hall; Bassoon: L. Andrews; French Horn: Johansen, Folts; Trumpet: A. H. Raymond Alger

Composed of about thirty members, the college band has put pep into the campus sport activities. In the fall, the football games were spirited by "Anchors Aweigh," "Caisons, Go Rolling Along," and "Come Back to Dear Old Houghton," under Prof. Alger's energetic leadership.

During the winter the farther right-hand corner of the gym balcony was reserved for the band members in the season's basketball games . . . the "Star-Spangled Banner" plays . . . twirling acts accompanied by the band provided keen entertainment between the games.

A band concert was given in the fall, the funds of which went toward emblem sweaters for the members. The program included Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," "Lustspiel" Overture by Bela and a trumpet solo by Harold Enos, "Stars in a Velvet Sky," Clarke.

Each member with 120 points for attendance, cooperation, originality will receive a letter this year . . . something new.

Oratorio Society

The oratorio group began its weekly Monday night rehearsals early this fall with approximately 150 members. In addition to music majors the oratorio is open to all. Week after week the "Messiah" could be heard echoing from the chapel. If you observed them you could see Prof. Cronk helping the sopranos up to that high A or the bass over those complicated runs. "Concentrate!" The thrill of being a part of the performance of such magnificent music made it worth all those hours spent rehearsing.

from the MESSIAH

Behold the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world.

Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows. He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon Him.

And with His stripes we are healed.

Since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.
For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

But thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Worthy is the Lamb that is slain, and hath redeemed us to God by His blood, to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

Beyond the Call of Duty

We're proud of them, our Who's Who students, who because of their scholarship and leadership in extra-curricular activities are tops on the campus.

There's Ruth, helpful, spirit-filled Sunday School teacher of college girls. Laura is one of those smiling waitresses and with her frequently is Esther Thornton, keen senior rival on the basketball floor. We connect Viola with the "Trio." Activities in Torchbearers, in student missionary meetings and her presence and contribution in prayer meetings show Ginny's deep-felt interest in others' spiritual welfare. Then there is Cook, busy boy on the Boulder and Johnny, vivacious songleader of the Gospel Messengers.

One and all of them have merited this honor.

Student Body

This year the work of the Student Body as an organization has been done chiefly by DeBrine announcements in class meetings and through the Student Council. Our Student Body officers are representative of vital Christian leadership on the campus, Johnny and Peg in the Gospel Messenger Team and Norm as pastor of the Oramel Methodist Church.

DeBrine, President; M. Fancher, Secretary-Treasurer; Parsons, Vice-President.

Student Council

Under Kouwe's leadership, the Student Council has really "gone to town" starting off last fall with a moonlight hike for the new students. Along with other accomplishments, the Council has drawn up a men's rooming contract effective the second semester. In many ways, even to free ink in the library, the Council has served us.

The Boulder

K. Clark, Business Manager; Cook, Editor; E. Anderson, Associate Editor.

Advisors: Dr. Luckey, Mrs. Cronk.

Every Wednesday morning at 7:30 a group of Juniors drop into the Boulder office, some perched on the table, others on the radiators, a few in the chairs around the room. The normal chatter soon gives way to a reverent quiet as a member of the Boulder staff leads in their weekly prayer meeting.

Throughout the year all of us felt a complete dependence upon God for help in the work of the 1947 Boulder. Realizing that "faith without works is dead" each one of us plunged into his duties:

Cook as "boss" . . . "Oh, my aching back."

Bud with the bud-get . . . "We've reached the limit—absolutely."

Ethel with the copy . . . "That due, too? What a dead line!"

Beulah with the subscriptions . . . "Are you sure you've bought your Boulder?"

Connie and the publicity . . . "Information . . . courtesy of the Boulder . . . Love that Boulder."

Fred and the photography . . . "busted . . . my camera."

Winnie and the photographer . . . "And this one didn't show up for his picture either . . . oh!"

Ed and Paul, the eager-beaver ad-getters . . . "Just too many, that's all."

June and the art—to her a most hearty tribute for endless hours on layout, publicity and the art make-up.

Jane and the typing . . . "Nothing to do until three days before the deadline, and then—!"

Yes, it's sure been fun!

So What

Getting out this yearbook is no picnic.
If we print jokes, people say we're silly;
If we don't, people say we are serious.
If we clip from other books,
We are too lazy to write it ourselves;
If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.
If we stick to the job all day,
We ought to be out hunting pictures;
If we do get out and hustle,
We ought to be putting first things first.

If we don't print contributions,
We don't appreciate true genius;
If we do the book is filled with junk.
If we make a change in a fellow's write-up,
We are too critical;
If we don't we are asleep.
Now, like as not someone will say
We swiped this from some other book—
WE DID!

Ship's Clubs

Almost any Wednesday evening one can find either the Expression Club trying over some new play, the Latin Club pursuing the classics, the Student Ministerial discussing the choir's place in the church, or any one of the several clubs engrossed in their group interests.

With the many extra-curricular activities Houghton students find little time for participation in many clubs but those who do belong to some club find it valuable and fun. The debate coaching of the Forensic Union is especially profitable giving those interested an excellent opportunity for such practice. Credit was given this year to the debate team meeting twice a week with Dr. King.

The privilege of hearing various outside speakers has come to the student body frequently through the clubs. Several missionaries have spoken at the clubs, promoting interest in many fields and encouraging those looking forward to missionary work.

International Relations Club

With its purpose to encourage interest in current events in many fields and an understanding of world problems, the International Relations Club has included in its program a lecture on India by Mr. Floyd Banker, a panel discussion on the United Nations, and a film on "Scenic Sweden." In the latter part of the year the club welcomed the Rev. Daniel Kaiper who gave a lecture on Alaska where he was missionary to the Indians. They also sponsored a chapel talk with Dr. Emerson as speaker viewing the different avenues of missionary work. A field trip and banquet rounded out the year.

Standing: C. Jennings, Gravink, Bey, Kingsbury, D. Robbins.

Sitting: Garland, Iannone, Miss Gillette, Breckinridge, M. Sprowl, Adamczyk, Hoffman, Shaffer.

Forensic Union

Second row: Rabe, Kling,
Dr. King, Foster, A.
Watson, Bogue.

First row: W. Ball, D.
Goodrich, Douglas,
Rhoads.

The debate team has been the principal function of the Forensic Union this year. For several years there has been no inter-collegiate debating until this fall when under the supervision of Dr. King it was resumed. Twice a week S-24 has resounded with the energetic voices of the debaters working on the national topic, "Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." The debaters chosen for the spring tour visited Wheaton, Goshen, Olivet, Marion, and Bluffton colleges.

During the spring the Forensic Union organizes the inter-class debate tournament. These debates are given in chapel before the student body with faculty members acting as judges.

Rabe, W. Ball, A. Watson, Lugtig.

Paleolinguists

With the primary aim, cultural appreciation, the Latin Club has welcomed all those interested in the classics.

A Christmas party conducted in Latin was a special activity of the club. A burlesque on Pyramus and Thisbe was played by Myrt Miller and Beth Goodrich as the lovers and Betty DeGolier as the lion.

The annual Roman banquet given in the spring is the high note of the year. At this time typical Roman style, etiquette, food and dress transform the paleolinguists into living ancients.

Third row: D. Davis, Donelson, Diller.
Second row: Rhebergen, President; Stockin, Copp, Vice-President; DeGolier.
First row: M. Lawrence, Bliss, Goodrich.
Absent: F. Robbins, Secretary-Treasurer.

Expression Club

Expressing oneself even in the backwoods manner of "Let's Get On with the Marrying," which the club put on for the Drama Seminar class, can be great fun. This year the Expression Club program included a Friday night entertainment, a Christmas play presented in the chapel, and plans for an out-of-town presentation.

Third row: E. Douglas, Dayton, Beach, Stuart, Kilpatrick, Vice-President; Mrs. Lennox, Strong, Krein, Connors, D. Goodrich.

Second row: Hoffman, Fletcher, Gleason, G. Harris, Secretary-Treasurer; Warren, Robinson, Smalley, E. Anderson, Giacobelli, President; Dingman.

First row: B. Douglas, Gilson, Bumford, Clifford.

Pre-Medic Club

Interest in medicine and dentistry has been promoted by the Pre-Medic Club. Besides the student debates and lectures of the club meetings there have been stimulating lectures by such medical men as Dr. E. A. Harris and Dr. H. J. Fero. One of the projects planned was a trip to one of the nearby hospitals to observe a minor operation.

Third row: W. Barnett, Wilcke, R. Hanley, Woodhams, D. Strong, Cal Tingley, England.
Second row: A. Anderson, Bulla, M. Miller, Kreider, Bateman, Sivak, President; Dingman, Cool, Pavalec, E. Grody.
First row: DeRuiter, B. Goodrich, G. Harris, Murakami, Chaplain; M. Wight, Vice-President; Miss Burnell, Faculty Adviser; Howell, Secretary-Treasurer; Butters, J. Wight, Porter, Warren.

Art Club

The Art Club added much to the Christmas spirit again this year by the stained glass window effect in the Ad building. Besides specializing in making a variety of Christmas cards, they planned for the year handcraft, finger-painting, sketching, clay modeling and painting.

Diller, Vice-President; Lusher, Vining, Douglas, Humes, Letonek, Spear, Secretary-Treasurer; Dennis.

Absent: M. Sheesley, President; Totman, Chaplain.

Ship's Sports

New zest in the athletics realm has buoyed up the games as old stars and new-blood alike have filled in the vacancies. Fierce battles have been fought. The last struggle between the senior-soph fellows and the senior-junior girls really gave the balcony enthusiasts something to yell about, old Bedford creaking and groaning under the strain. The cheer-leaders kept the spirit keen.

True sportsmanship through Christian living was the backbone of all the games, making Houghton sports an evidence of the reality of Christ-centered lives.

With the system of intra-mural sports, an opportunity to participate in the athletic program is open to all in class, purple-gold series or individual activities. Varsity ends each season with the outstanding players forming both boy's and girl's teams.

Douglas, B. Warren, Hoffman.

Helfer, G. Harris, Smalley, M. Fancher, Flower, Lewellen, Barker, E. Douglas.
Absent: G. Wells.

Athletic Association

Although we seem to know the Athletic Association mostly from their candy sales and motion picture reels, their program is more inclusive. The nine honorary positions are filled by students elected by the student body to promote athletic activity through Purple-Gold series and Varsity games in the four major sports—basketball, baseball, tennis, track and field. The Purple-Gold football games, though messed up a bit by rainy weather, went over big, the Gold the victors.

An added function of the Association this year was the selection of the outstanding sportsman and sportswoman for both boys and girls. Also a new trophy, the Adam Hat Sport Welfare Trophy, has been added to the number of awards and letters. The recipient of this is judged on ability, good sportsmanship, cooperation and initiative and elected by the student body.

The spring banquet, at which time the honors are received, has been a huge success, anticipated by weeks of “who’s going?”—“how are they going to get there?”—“need five more cars”—and a week beforehand, “where’ll it be?”

Promoting interest in sports the Athletic Association has stimulated school and good competitive spirit, so essential to vital Christian living.

Coach Marvin Eyler.

That tall, good-looking instructor you see in the gym is none other than Coach Eyler. Although this is his first year on the faculty he is no stranger here and we welcome him back after his days in the army.

Coach's militaristic carry-over gives spirit to his classes enlivened by his ready wit. Besides the regular sports, Coach Eyler has introduced a systematic study and performance of marching, paddle tennis, badminton, and calisthenics. We love to hear his crisp "Halt—About face!" echoing from the gym. It's been a good year with him at the head of our sports program.

Tennis Champs

Fresh Football

Second row: Lombardi, Nast, Hamilton, Watkins.
First row: Dongell, Morgan, J. Wells, Currie, Johnson.

For the first time since the beginning of the war, each class had its own team this year. The frosh class, captained by Ollie, "tackled" the job with a will, and came out on top . . . The traditional Purple-Gold series proved the gold men to be the "better team."

Gold Football

"The cattle on a thousand hills"
Are His; who'll drive them in?

The fields are ripe with golden grain,
Who'll put it in the bin?
The sea is full of fish uncaught,
Who'll be the first to get
Another draught miraculous
Where He bids cast the net?
