A BANKER IN INDIA

One of the very essential institutions of our day is a bank. For the operation of a new Bankers' institution upon our mission field in India, a building has been provided, and, judging from the reports that come from there, at least one assistant has been engaged, the receiving teller, who is anxiously awaiting the arrival of the Banker, while the young people of Houghton have raised the funds for the transportation expenses of our new Banker to India.

Our Missionary Secretary, Rev E. F. McCarty says, "He will be sent just as soon as sailing can be arranged."

I am sure that those of us who know Hazel have a feeling of admiration for her pluck and her devotion to the cause of missions. Could you read the letters that come to our office from her and her associates in service, your admiration would be increased as you would note her resignation to some things that have been far different from what she had expected. While it is true that sometimes hope deferred maketh the heart faint, she has shown no signs of faint-heartedness. We rejoice that if God wills, her hopes are soon to be realized.

There is another for whom we all have a great deal of admiration and that is our Banker. We have heard nothing of his sitting with his head in his hands because the funds for his transportation were not coming in. Instead of this he has been pitching in and doing his best to make a way where he did not find one opening before him.

This is the kind of material needed upon the mission field, and we shall expect to read before long of the Bankers making ways into the hearts and homes of the masses of India.

Let us thank God for two such noble lives as these to invest as representatives of Houghton for the great work of evangelizing India. And while we thank Him let us remember them in prayer.

Houghton Garage

Houghton, N. Y., Dec. 7---At last our long anticipated desires are about to be realized. Through the co-operation of Professor Hazlett, Mr. Lennox, and Mr. A. P. Adams of Wilkesbarre, Pa., our town is to have a garage. Mr. Adams is an expert mechanic. During the World War he was a member of the Motor Division in France. The garage will be located for the present in L. D. Lucas' blacksmith shop, and will be opened for business January 1.

College Juniors Elect

A meeting of the College Juniors was held Wednesday after chapel. The following officers were elected:

President---Harry Kitterman

Vice-President---Esther Haynes

Secretary and Treasurer---Kenneth Gibbin

This was the first meeting of the year and all members showed much enthusiasm. We hope this will be a banner year as we have not as yet had an abundance of "pep" in former years.

It really seems a shame,

And yet it must be done;

The Junior Class must take the lead,
Just to make things run.

"Vanity of Vanities, All is Vanity"

In Wednesday's chapel, Prof. Hazlett read the chapter he called one of the most true---if one can be called truer than another---in the whole Bible; that chapter was Ecclesiastes I.

Miss Gillette, the first of the new lady members of the faculty to conduct chapel exercises, spoke on Tuesday. After devotionals, she emphasized the value of reading the library magazines. Next Tuesday, Miss Montgomery will speak.

On Monday Pres. Luckey will conduct the chapel exercises; on Wednesday, Prof. Woolsey; and on Thursday, Rev. Pitt. Friday's chapel will be something of an entertainment, not holding to any particular topic.

Houghton College Permanency Fund

Students, if ever Houghton needed your help and loyal support, it is now.

So far as we can see, the next five years decide the fate of Houghton. All we can expect from the Church is a full budget ($8000): the present endowment will not produce over $7000. At least $5000 per year must come from the Permanency Fund. Houghton expects that every student of Houghton new and old will do something. About the time this is being read, every student will receive a letter giving full explanation and a blank pledge for making his subscription. The students will be divided into groups and classes. The students now in school will take up the Permanency Fund entirely by classes.

Students, the Permanency Fund should summarize all the support that you give to Houghton, outside of the regular educational budget if you are a member of the Wesleyan Church. All unpaid pledges that you have should be transferred to the Permanency Fund and a new pledge as large as you possibly feel able to make should be made for this fund. As the name signifies, this fund is for the purpose of making Houghton permanent. Outside of the budget it is just now the most important fund that Houghton has and every ounce of effort should be made by every student of Houghton in Houghton territory to make it a success. Students, we are counting on you. You have never failed to be loyal to the old school; I am sure you will not now in this time of crisis.--J. S. Luckey

STAR NOTICES

Please forward all local and alumni notes to Miss Edith Lapham. Any and all notes of this kind will be greatly appreciated.

We are also very glad to receive any other contributions that are printable of not over three or four hundred words in length. Especially would we like to hear from our missionaries in foreign fields.

Editorial*Mental Indigestion

WE MUST ALL sooner or later come to the conclusion that one of the greatest evils and menaces in the universe today is mental indigestion.

Ruched by the numerous affairs of a busy life, clamoring for a quick and easy way to success, and diligently searching for the mighty dollar, our dreams suddenly fade, our hopes are ruined and our expectations shattered by that villain of society, school life, and business alike--mental indigestion.

The people of the world today have less time for thought, less time for study than at any other period in history. Pushed on by the ever increasing demand for hurry, man snatches at the protruding portions of his legitimate training, stows them haphazardly in his brain and goes out into the world wholly incompetent for the huge task which confronts him. He faces life's problems with only a few fundamental laws which govern his vocation and with these so intermingled with other thoughts that they are almost useless. In other words, he is suffering from mental indigestion.

To do our best in the world we must have a supreme aim, an outstanding goal toward which we are going. The vocation which we choose in life must have a firm foundation, and will, by necessity, have to be sustained by the strength of a well-ordered brain. Therefore, that we may gain a solid basis upon which to build our structure which will advance us toward the light of success we must pigeon-hole our ideas and concentrate upon our study to such a degree that we may comprehend the principles there involved. We must, at all times, avoid the destroyer of a clear mind--mental indigestion.

(Editor's Note: We are greatly indebted to Mr. Virgil Hussey for this editorial.)

Talks With Charley

Deer editor:

I aint got much of this here larning whut teaches a fella to write a nice little essy or git up and preech a sarmen. But I got a few things to say to the people of Hoton and i thot maybe as how you'd print it in yer little paper.

When I furst came to this village severil years ago, poor ignorant and bashfuller than than the girles used to be, everbudy in the comunity pitched in and tryed to make me fergit that I was lonsome and homesick. They was a frendly and kindly sperit everywhere and I fell in love with the place.

Well, I got enuf eddicashup finaly and left Hoton. Bymby I married me a wife and afterwile I says to my wife, I says, "Mirandy (that's her name) Let's move to Hoton & live". But she says to me, "Thet's way off from my pa and ma and evertudy else I kno and you'll be off workin all day and I'll git awfull lonsome." But I ansers rite quik "No you wont Mirandy; those folks in Hoton are good christians and so nayborly thet you'll soon make lots of frends and feel jest lik you was at home".

Well, we up and moved. We been here nigh unto 4 munths and she's begining to tell me I didnt kno whut I was talking about. I'm almost of the same mind. They's been only two people in to call and git akwainted. She goes too church, but she dont meat anybudy there for all the good people (cept her) stays to meetin.

I gess I must a fergot thet in these here days of airships and wirless radiums, peeple aint got time to be naybors any more. Of corse the faculties wives, they got to stay home afternoons and mend sox and in the evening there husbans has to study there books. The preecher, he's busy preechin and gettin ready to preech and nobody's got time to look up and see whut his neighbor's doing. You remember that fella with the muck rake was to busy to look up, two.

This here's what I wanted to say: Must be the good old frendly sperit of Hoton has died or else its gone sound to sleep. And if it's only to sleep I wisht sumbudy would wake it up and give it some nurrishment.

Yours truly,

Charley Magundy

Is Crime on the Wane?

After reading the following list of reported crimes in New York City for one day, December 3, 1923, answer for yourself. There were four safe robberies, and attempted lynching--the victim had killed a fellow laborer--the suicide of an aged man who had become weary of life, the frustrated attempt at suicide by an elderly man who had lost his all in the New York Stock Market, the arrest of three gangsters charged with the theft of $16,000 worth of whiskey, and the seizure of 8000 cases of Canadian beer, consigned to a Broadway hotel.

Liquor Violators Compared to E. Goldman and E. Debbs

Americans who flaunt the prohibition laws were termed "anarchists on all fours with Emma Goldman and Eugene Debbs" by United States District Attorney Hayward to-day, in an address before the Government Club.

"If light wine and beers were legalized, respectable people would go to their front doors to buy wine and beer, and to their back doors to buy illicit whisky, gin and rum," declared Col. Hayward, flaying the "moderate wets".---From the Democrat-Chronicle.

Vacation Pleasures

Contrary to the usual custom of lying down after partaking of a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner, ten Houghton "studes" started to Caneadea Gorge after dinner at the "dorm."

When they reached the cemetery, laughing and talking abruptly ceased for two of the occupants of the graveyard rose and sedately walked away. Such an excitement and thrill this created among the members of the party!

Resuming the journey, the gorge was reached after one or two unnecessary detours. When the gorge was reached, three enthusiasts refused to listen to "paw" and "maw" and started down the steep incline. After the more abedient ones were ready to go home, it was necessary to round-up the missing three. After some time they were located, and the party came home following closely in the path of "paw" and "maw." Each of the party are eagerly waiting for the next time when "paw" and "maw" will give them a good time.

Purple-Gold Series May Not Open Until February

Regular Purple-Gold basketball practice will continue regularly from now until the time set for the series. Practice begins in earnest this week, and the captains are already reducing the squads to a minimum.

The time for the series seems to be best placed during the month of February. The teams must have intensive practice until the holidays, and almost immediately afterward we are sorry to say that the time is ripe for the mid-year exams. Beginning in the latter part of January and ending early in February, will occur the regular mid-winter special revival services. In view of these facts, it seems best that the series should not officially open until the first available Friday night in February.

Another Challenge

Much has been said, in times past, about school spirit; and as a whole, the student body has demonstrated many times over, that Houghton is not lacking in this requisite of a successful college.

The support of the "Charter Movement," the response to the call for workers on "Arbor days," the readiness with which all accepted the challenge to self-denial that one of our alumni might be sent to India---all these instances and many others of a like nature, reveal to the world the fact that Houghton students are not backward in coming to the aid of their school when the call for assistance comes.

This same spirit of co-operation--this willingness to make sacrifices if the occasion demands--is about to be challenged again. Are the students ready to respond in the usual manner?

Some years ago Houghton met and defeated Chesbro Seminary of Chili, New York. Last year, Chesbro returned the compliment. Both of Houghton's teams suffered defeat at the hands of the "Chilians." This defeat was especially humiliating in that it could have been averted had all the students done their part. Those who composed the team were convinced that all the debaters of the school did not respond when the call came for the try-outs. There was not a member of either team who was not sure that there were students in school who were better fitted for the task in hand than was he.

The same call which was issued last year will soon be heard again. We are going to try to atone for last year's defeat by a clean-cut victory this year over our old rival. The challenge was given and accepted last year for a third debate between Chesbro and Houghton in order to determine who is the real winner, each school having one victory to its credit.

Professor Hazlett is in charge of the work of organizing a team, and he is going to be successful only as he can secure the support of the students. Is the situation which prevailed last year to be repeated this year, or not?

Is Houghton to be represented by a second-best team because of the failure of the best to accept their responsibilities or, is she going to array against her opponent the very best she has? Let each student answer this question for himself.

Within a few days Professor Hazlett is going to call a meeting of those of last year's teams who may still be with us. At this meeting, the method of picking the teams, questions to consider for debate, and other details will be attended to. It is hoped that by the time the next "Star" appears, we shall be able to give full particulars as to the plans for the debate. Be ready to respond!

The Soap Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Benjamin for their regular meeting.

Did you ever hear of it? Perhaps nearly everyone to whom this question is propounded would say "No." However, it is a college whose fundamental principles so parallel those of Houghton that we should know something about it. It is one of the few institutions that still uphold religious life in American education. Says the World's Work, "It is seeking new students in an extremely modern way--by advertising. It occupies whole pages in the leading newspapers of the South. The advertisement consists of two parts. First it sets forth the attitude of the leading American universities on matters of general religion. An actual questionnaire addressed to 289 professors on certain intimate matters revealed the following: 46.3 per cent expressed a belief in God, 53.7 declared that they were agnostics or unbelievers, 55.3 per cent believed in immortality, and 44.7 per cent professed a lack of belief or disbelief.

"The remainder of the advertisement sets forth the beliefs and fundamental principles of Davidson college in the president's statement.

"I am glad to say from personal knowledge that every teacher whether science, languages, or humanities, and every officer connected with Davidson College, believes in the Scriptures as the Word of God, in God as a personal being infinite in all His attributes, in Jesus Christ as the Son of God and very God in his virgin birth, in his atonement for sin thru his sufferings and death, in Him as the only possible source of salvation and in His infinite power and desire to serve. Furthermore I am glad to testify that their lives bear out this statement. None others would be retained in the service of Davidson."

A wonderful declaration of principles. We would like to know more about Davidson.

Purple Girls Look Strong.

For the first time since the organization of the Purple-Gold sides the Purple girls look as strong, if not stronger than the Gold.

The preliminary games show that they have acquired a wealth of new material and have only met with one great loss, "Myrt" Mattoon last year's captain and versatile player. The newcomers, who will beyond a doubt, star on the Purple this year are, Eileen Loftis, a fast and snappy passer who plays either guard or forward with equal ease, Grace McIvor whose fast work has already almost assured her a place on the team at centre, and Eva Sawyer although new to the good old game will develop into one of the best guards ever seen on the courts at Houghton. When these newcomers are added to the oldsters, stars of years gone by, the team on paper, at least, seems well nigh unbeatable. "Vi" Ackerman, who won on fouls the lone game that is chalked up to the Purple team in three years of contests, is back and is better than ever before, while with her are Lapham, Ware, M. Ackerman, all better than ever.

Gold Lose "Dot" Clarke

To oppose the Purple aggregation the Gold seems somewhat crippled. They lost have their star forward "Dot" Clark captain of last year's Gold team and M. Williams, center for three years still holds to her determination not to play this year. To bolster the crippled squad they seem to have only Laura Bakér, star guard who has returned after a year of absence, while the oldsters who have returned are Anderson, Fero, Eldridge. Most of the newcomers who play basket-ball seem to have joined the Purple seemingly leaving the Gold somewhat handicapped for the first time.

Prof. Hazlett (in his weekly lecture to Sophomore English class): "We will have our usual test on Friday. Now things happening on Friday are not all unfortunate---why, I was born on Friday."
